Fire Caused By Lightning Guts Uni. Place Grocery

. . . Entire Stock Of Safeway Store Lost

An early morning blaze caused by a bolt of lightning completely gutted the interior of the Safeway Store at 2436 North Forty-eighth, Wednesday.

The fire was discovered at 5:30 a. m. by Battalion Chief Joe Miller at Fire Station No. 5, located approximately two blocks from the store. Miller, who sounded the first alarm, said he saw lightning strike a roof ventilator about two-thirds of the distance back from the front of the brick building, starting the blaze.

When firemen brought the blaze under control at 6:30, the entire stock of the store was either burned or scorched beyond use. The intense heat from the blaze broke five sections of plate glass windows across the front of the store.

Clock Stopped.

C. B. Kopcho, 4503 Baldwin, store operator, said walls and ceiling of the building was severely damaged by smoke and water. He said walk-in refrigerators used for storing meat and frozen foods would not be opened for inspection until the building was cleared of all smoke to prevent further stock damage.

The office of Paul Barker, Lincoln district manager of Safeway Stores, said no damage estimates would be made until adjusters arrived from the central office in Omaha, and inventories of stock in the store completed.

Three fire engine companies and one truck company were called to the scene of the blaze.

Persons living in the vicinity of the store said all electric clocks were stopped at approximately 5 a. m., presumbably by the same bolt of lightning which started the fire.

Public Housing Erased

Key Section Of Bill Voted Down, 168-165, In Tentative Action

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The whole public housing sectino was knocked out of the administration's vast housing billtoday—subject to later vote.

With the aid of some southern democrats, republicans mustered a 168 to 165 vote to knock out on the house floor a provision for 810,000 public housing units to be financed by annual federal payments of $308,000,000.

The rallying cry of the opponents of the provision was "socialism."

The action could be reversed later.

Heavy Blow To Bill.

But even so, it was a tremendous blow to the bill which has been the center of a tough fight all week.

Rep Reece (R-Kas) offered the amendment to strip the bill of the public housing section.

The GOP maneuver showed surprising strength.

Before the public housing provision was voted down, the bill already had been cut down to senate size—from 1,050,000 to 810,000 units and from $400,000,000 to $308,000,000.

Still in the bill were provisions for a slum clearance program and a farm housing program. The five-year slum program already had been tentatively approved, but the farm portion still had to go through the amendment stage.

The democrats agreed to the cut in the size of the public housing program in an attempt to smooth the way for the rest of the measure.

Selleck Officer Of College Group

DENVER—(AP)—John Selleck of the University of Nebraska is the new secretary-treasurer of the Central Association of College and University Business Officers. Selleck was elected Tuesday as the Central and Western association wound up a joint meeting. Fred Ambrose of the University of Iowa was named president of the Central group.

Record Crop Predicted For Soviet Union

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The agriculture department predicted today that Russia will harvest more grain this year than at any time since before the war.

The department also reported that Russia has planted the highest acreage for all crops combined in at least 10 years.

The agricultural outlook for the Soviet Union is in sharp contrast, however, to the picture pointed for most other countries in Europe.

ESPIONAGE CASE GOES TO JURORS

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Judith Coplon espionage case went to a federal court jury at 8:55 a. m. (CST) today.

The jury—six Negroes and six whites—retired to decide the fate of the former justice department worker after listening to instructions by Federal Judge Alber L. Reeves on points of law.

The judge spoke for 25 minutes, repeatedly stressing that the defendant's intent was a major point for the jury's consideration.

Before the judge began speaking, he had denied defense attorney Archibald Palmer's motion for a mistrial.

Palmer Complains.

As soon as the jury filed out to begin deliberations, Palmer jumped to his feet to complain about the instructions. He centered on the judge's reference to Miss Coplon's meetings in New York with Valentine A. Gubitchev as clandestine.

Judge Reeves said the verdict was clear that Miss Coplon did copy and take "certain writings, documents and notes" from justice department files.

The jury must decided, he said, whether she took the papers with intent to injure the United States and aid Russia.

Ten minutes after the jurors received the case, Judge Reeves called them back into the courtroom to modify his reference to the New York meetings.

He told the jurors that there was nothing "clandestine or secret" about the meeting of Miss Coplon and Gubitchev Jan. 14.

Talbots In Satisfactory Condition

3 Lincolnites Hurt In Minnesota Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Talbot, 2001 B street, and Mrs. Talbot's sister, Mrs. Frank C. Boehmer, 1900 F street, were described as "seriously injured" Wednesday following a head-on auto-truck collision Tuesday night near Walker, Minn.

A Walker hospital physician described to The Star the injuries of the trio as "fractures and lacerations," but said the extent would not be known until the patients were taken to the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., for X-rays Wednesday.

Did Not Suffer Burns.

He said the Lincolnites had not been burned and that their condition was satisfactory.

Early reports received in Lincoln of the injuries were:

Mr. Talbot—broken leg and fractured ribs.

Mrs. Talbot—face lacerations.

Mrs. Boehmer—fractured knee cap and ankle.

Five persons were injured in the collision on highway 34, six miles east of Walker, according to the Associated Press. The wreckage caught fire after the impact.

Lincolnites Aid Rescue.

Walt Saunders, owner of the heavy pulpwood truck, and George Taylor, riding with him, were less seriously hurt. The men, residents of the Walker community, were taken to the Indian hospital at Cass Lake.

By coincidence, the three auto passengers were pulled from the flaming wreckage by the auto dealer who sold Talbot the car a month ago in Lincoln. He is Harold Galloway, manager of the Sidles Buick company in Lincoln. He was aided by his two sons, Harry, 22, and Dean, 23. The Galloways are staying at a Leech lake resort near Walker. Theirs was the first car along the lightly-traveled state highway after the accident.

Returning to Summer Home.

The Talbots were returning to their summer home on Pleasant lake near Hackensack, 25 miles from Walker, after visiting their daughter, Mrs. L. M. Stiener, who has a cottage on Thunder lake near Remer.

They have been at their summer home since June 1, although Mr. Talbot returned to the home a couple of days ago after several days in Lincoln.

Dr. Emerson Ward, a son-in-law of the Talbots who is associated with the Mayo Clinic on a fellowship, will accompany the injured when they are brought to Rochester Wednesday from Walker.

Harry Smith, 53, Of L. T. & T., Dies Suddenly

Harry Francis Smith, 53, 334 South Thirty-fourth street, superintendent of the motor vehicle department with the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company, died Tuesday night at his home.

Mr. Smith because suddenly ill after he had arrived home from work Tuesday afternoon. His physician said death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage.

Born March 17, 1896, in Kansas, Mr. Smith came to Lincoln about 30 years ago and began his work with the telephone company as a driver in the construction department.

Mr. Smith served in the army transportation corps during World war I and upon his return to Lincoln, he was transferred to the motor vehicle department. He was employed as a driver, mechanic and inspector before becoming supervisor in 1937.

Mr. Smith was a member of the First United Presbyterian church, the Fraternal Order of Eagles and the American Legion.

Surviving are his wife, Grace; one son, Charles, on submarine duty with the U. S. Navy in the Pacific; one brother, George, Sharon Springs, Kans.; and three sisters, Mrs. Emily Lacey, Mrs. Stella Soures, both of Sharon Springs, Kas., and Mrs. Anna McKinnon, Morrill.

Ernest C. James, Insurance Company Salesman, Dies

Ernest C. James, 69, 1368 South Thirty-third street, salesman with the Equitable Life Insurance company, died Wednesday morning at a local hospital.

Mr. James had lived in Lincoln for six years. He was a member of the Methodist church, Life Underwriters association, V.F.W., United Spanish-American War Veterans, and the Masonic lodge at Ord.

Surviving are his wife, Cora G.; six daughters, Mrs. Fred Rothert, Auburn, Mrs. Helen Fell, Mrs. W. J. Sieck, both of Lincoln, Mrs. E. R. Litizzette, Omaha, Mrs. Robert Skinner, Herman, and Mrs. Kenneth Peterson, Pontiac, Mich.; three sons, Ralph A., Stonyford, Cal., Ernest C., Oakland, Cal., and Robert G., Cambridge, Mass.; three brothers; four sisters and 16 grandchildren.

Labor Gives Up Drive To Wipe Out T-H Law

. . . Green Urges Senate To Kill Bill With Taft Amendment

—SEVEN PER CENT INCREASE—

County Tangible Value Is Record Of $149,933,885

Gains Shown In Corn, City Real Estate; Board To Try To Keep Levy Near 3.5 Mills

An all-time high in tangible property evaluation — $149,933,885 representing a 7 per cent increase over last year—was reported by County Assessor Harry W. Scott Wednesday.

Responsible for the marked increase—the highest in any one year—were hikes in real estate in the city, motor vehicles and the huge amounts of corn still in bins on farms in the county.

Using last year's levy of 3.487 as a basis, this means that this year's seven per cent increase will drop an additional $38,000 into the county's coffers. The county tax levy is computed solely on the tangible property evaluation.

Hold Line.

Tangible properties include all real estate, livestock, grain, motor vehicles and other personal property with the exception of cash, stocks and other securities.

The county commissioners indicated Tuesday that they intend "to hold the line," keeping the levy near last year's figure. Commissioner Chris Kuhner said he would oppose any increase in the levy for the coming year.

Both classes of intangible property increased 3.61 per cent over last year, totaling $46,592,655.

Class "A" intangibles — Cash, savings accounts, etc.—showed a valuation of $21,120,755. This property is taxed at the rate of .25c per $100.

Class "B" intangibles—All forms of securities—totaled $25,471,900 They are taxed at 80c per $100.

Adding an estimated six million dollars in franchise and railroad assessments — which come later from the state—to both the tangible figure, the county's total evaluation stands at $202,320,480, approximately 5.6 per cent higher than last year.

5.3% Hike In City.

The report revealed that real estate in the city, valued at 73 millions, increased 5.3 per cent over last years real estate in the county outside Lincoln, valued at 28 millions, increased but .5 per cent.

The most marked increase was in corn stored in the county. Nearly three million bushels, valued at more than two and one-half million dollars, fall in that category. This represents three times more than 1948.

Motor vehicle evaluation—constantly climbing since the war — stands at 12 million dollars, nearly 3 million more than last year. A total of 36,561 vehicles are registered in the county.

More Livestock.

While the above three classes provided the sharpest increases, other categories also moved upward. Included were household goods and equipment, farm machinery, tractors stored wheat and livestock.

This indicates that the availability of new merchandise such cars, machinery, household equipment, etc., is materally reflected in assessment figures.

Only four groups showed decreased evaluations from last year. They were mules and horses, hogs, poultry and dogs. There are 77 fewer dogs in the county this year, incidentally.

Sees Lower County Rate.

Scott told reporters Wednesday tangible property has shown a steady increase since 1946, rising 23.6 per cent above the figure for that year.

He praised the work of his assistant assessors, stating that the increase speaks well for them. "In the face of this year's increase," Scott said, "it is my opinion that the county tax rate should be lower for the coming year."

Great Britain Faces Trade Showdown

England Consults With Other States In Marshall Plan

PARIS—(AP)—Britain faces a showdown today with other Marshall plan nations on how trade should be conducted among the nations of Europe.

The seven-member consultative committee of the Organization for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC) will meet this morning and the full 19-nation organization later today in an effort to reach agreement.

The stakes in national prestige and perhaps even national economic stability seem large in comparison with the immediate dollar stakes.

Last week the top economic experts of Britain, France and Belgium met in Brussels, but could not resolve their differences. It was a question of the others not being able to reach an agreement with Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's iron-walled chancellor of the exchequer.

W. Averell Harriman, U. S. ambassador-at-large for the Marshall plan, has been sitting in as observer at the meetings.

Moyer Unanimous Choice For State Bar President

Executive council of the Nebraska State Bar association announced to the membership Wednesday that it had unanimously nominated Earl J. Moyer of Madison for president. The annual meeting will be held in Omaha Oct. 20 and 21.

Other unanimous nominations were: Vice presidents, Thomas M. Davies, Lincoln; Leon Samuelson, Franklin, and John L. Barton, Omaha.

Joseph C. Tye, Kearney, kas nominated for member at large of the executive council.

Final Vote May Come Thursday

. . . CIO Chiefs Stunned

WASHINGTON—(AP) — The AFL asked today that the senate kill the administration's labor bill, now amended to embrace the Taft-Hartley law's injunction powers.

The move meant abandoning for this session of congress the drive by organized labor and Truman democrats to repeal the T-H law.

AFL president William Green wrote Senator Lucas of Illinois, the democratic leader, that the action of the senate in adding "national emergency" injunction authority to that bill makes it "absolutely unacceptable."

CIO officials, stunned by yesterday's senate action, already had resigned themselves to keeping the Taft-Hartley act for two more years.

Will Wait Until 1950.

Arthur Goldberg, CIO general counsel, told a reporter "we might as well face the fact that we have the Taft-Hartley act until after the 1950 elections."

Lucas had Green's letter read to the senate by a clerk. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), who got in the injunction amendment, lit into Green in a speech.

Taft said the AFL president's letter was "probably the most presumptious statement that any individual has ever made to the senate of the United States."

Speedy Windup Urged.

"Mr. Green is undertaking to veto the senate bill before it is passed."

Green said a meeting of AFL union representatives this morning unanimously approved a move by Lucas to bring a speedy end to the senate labor debate.

"We feel that amendments designed to make the Taft bill more palatable would be useless and a waste of time," Green wrote Lucas.

He said he hoped the senate would go ahead and vote on other proposals by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) and then defeat the bill.

50-To-40 Vote Margin.

Taft put through the "national emergency" injunctions feature by a 50-40 vote yesterday.

Green's letter was read to the senate by a clerk shortly after it convened.

Lucas asked and got unanimous senate agreement to vote on other Taft amendments by noon (CST) tomorrow.

Lucas said that, if the second Taft amendment is adopted, this will end the senate's labor debate. The amendment includes a number of the T-H law features, among them a ban on closed shop contracts that require all employes to be union members.

Veto Predicted.

An influential democratic senate official told reporters privately he is positive in his own mind that the final measure emerging from congress will be vetoed.

The Taft substitute would preserve such Taft-Hartley features as these:

The ban on closed shop contracts that require all employes to be union members; the independence of the federal mediation service; the provision that employers don't have to bargain with their foremen; the ban on mass picketing, and the use of temporary injunctions in unfair labor practice cases.

On the other hand, Taft would abandon such Taft-Hartley provisions as:

The independent "general counsel" of the national labor relations board with wide authority to prosecute cases; the provision that now says men on strike can't vote in plant elections; and the blanket prohibition against all secondary boycotts (union efforts to exert pressure on one company by forcing other companies to quit doing business with it).

Gene Edwards Retiring After 41 Years As Letter Carrier

. . . To Accept Position Of Assistant Minister

After 41 years and three months service on the same route as a letter carrier, Rufus E. 'Gene' Edwards is retiring and will become assistant minister at the Methodist church at Ninth and C streets.

Edwards, born in Nashville, Tenn., on May 25, 1880, moved to Topeka, Kas., shortly after his birth, and from there he went to St. Joseph, Mo., at the age of six. He was graduated from Bartlett high school in St. Joseph in 1897. Going to Lincoln in the summer of that year, he attended the University of Nebraska for two years.

On April 1, 1908, he entered the postal service as a letter carrier, and has served in that capacity since then.

Made Many Friends.

One of the most horrible things Edwards can remember happening occurred about 30 years ago. Two fire trucks collided at the intersection of Eleventh and O streets, throwing the fire chief, Neil Sommers, out of one of them and killing him instantly. The chief struck the sidewalk about six feet from Edwards.

On the lighter side, the letter carrier can recall that many of the people he carried birth announcements for are now grandmothers. He says that the greatest thing he has got from his work is the many friends that he has made.

Edwards, his wife Jennie, and his daughter, Evaline, make their home at 2420 P street. A son, Lester E. Edwards, lives in Newberg, N. Y.

There are no plans for physical labor in the future for Edwards. He says his new job will involve mostly research work. Edwards helped build the church in 1926.

The mail carrier's route was number three, formerly number one, which extends from Tenth to Twelfth streets, and from the north side of O street to R street.

Edwards has been described as being an "accommodating, loyal and efficient," carrier. Fellow employes Thursday will present him with a gift in token of his long service.

Shelterbelts No Answer To Stop Floods

. . . SAYS CONSERVATIONIST WILLIAMS

By GLENN SPEIDEL.

Shelterbelts are not the answer to full utilization of water resources or to the control of disasterous floods and land erosion due to floods, Ross A. Williams of the forestry division of the Soil Conservation Service, said Wednesday.

"We try to emphasize the fact that shelterbelts are only part of the answer to good soil conservation," he stated.

When hard, torrential rains, ranging from two to three inches on up, fall, the shelterbelts, particularly in the flat plains country, does little to stop water runoff, Williams said.

He pointed out that only in the case of heavy snows, such as Nebraska had last winter, do the shelterbelts play an important part in keeping moisture on the land. The amount of moisture kept out of the creeks in this case, however, is hard to determine, he added, because when spring thaws begin it is nearly impossible to determine how much of the water from the melting snow stays on the land, and how much runs off.

He commented that shelterbelts were first started in the plains country to stop drifting caused by wind. During the heavy snows last winter, he stated, shelterbelts proved their worth when snow drifted in around the trees, allowing more of the moisture to soak into the ground.

Part of Program.

"Shelterbelts planted on a contour or in hilly land might help somewhat in stopping water runoff after rains," he stated. "However, in Nebraska practically all of our shelterbelts are planted on flat level land."

He added further that shelterbelts, while certainly of considerable value to farmers, are only a small part of a complete program to stop water erosion. The trees are only of minor importance when considering the amount of water that runs down creeks to rivers before farmers can get the full amount of good from it.

Other necessary parts of a program to allow full utilization of water resources include grassed waterways, contour farming and storage reservoirs for irrigation, he said.

"Shelterbelts were never intended to stop water loss from run-off, except to the extent that they help keep snow on the fields," he stated.

ROSS A. WILLIAMS—"Shelterbelts not the answer to full water utilization."

Southeast Gets New Drenching

1.50 At Seward; Nemaha Dropping

Saturated southeastern Nebraska got another soaking early Wednesday, but rivers and streams swollen by heavier rains earlier this week were dropping at most points.

The overnight and early morning rains ranged up to 1.50 at Seward, 1.40 at Gresham and 1.06 at York, with lesser amounts covering most of southeast and south central areas.

Soakers Over County.

Just at sunrise today a violent thunderstorm brought .74 of an inch of added rainfall to Lincoln with greater amounts elsewhere in Lancaster county, topped by 1.89 inches at Pleasant Dale.

The low hanging clouds, before dumping the new rainfall on Lincoln, hung low on the horizon reflecting the brilliant rays of the sunrise in a bright reddish-orange hue.

Other heavy rains in the county included 1.45 inches at Denton, 1.12 at Raymond, 1.02 at Malcolm, 1.00 at Sprague. Hallam and Panama, 1.35 at Hickman and 1.18 at Bennet.

Meanwhile, the Nemaha river dropped at Fal's City after cresting at 26.6 feet about 7 p. m. Tuesday night. Flood stage there is 21.50 feet.

Observers expect the Nemaha to continue falling despite a half-inch rain there early this morning. It stood at 23.75 at 8 a. m., today.

An early morning thunderstorm brought new rains to the Omaha area shortly after 7:30 a.m. today. The downpour which was in progress at 8:30 a.m. had brought .13 inches of moisture.

Burlington railroad reports indicate a two-inch rain on the Strang to Hebron division last night. On the Wymore division there was from a half-inch to three and a half inches of rainfall. Some hail fell from Odell to Concordia, aKs.

Both the Town branch and Nemaha river were down at Tecumseh today as residents in the flooded north part of town continued cleanup activities. A light shower fell there early today.

Traffic was resumed on the old Hightway 50 at Tecumseh today after high water closed the road Tuesday.

Heavy Track Damage.

About 20 miles of Burlington track between Pawnee City and Liberty were heavily undermined by Tuesday rainfall. A spokesman for the lines said washed out areas were found in every mile of the stretch, ranging from six inches to three feet in depth. In some spots even the rails were washed off the grading.

Nearly 100 men were at work on the track, on the Table Rock-Wymore line, using bulldozers and cranes Wednesday morning. The official said the track would be open Monday if no additional rain falls. The company has cancelled the four daily trains over the line and is re-routing passengers.

Washouts between Tecumseh and Adams were cleared up by 2:15 p. m. Tuesday, the company said. Trains on the Kansas City-Lincoln line went back into operation then.

Rainfall in Nebraska in the three months starting April 1 has been well above normal, weather bureau reports showed.

Up to Monday—and some points have had heavy rains since then—the total since April 1 in the eastern part of the state was 11.57 inches, compared to a normal of 10.49. In the central division the total was 10.50 inches, compared to a 7.66 inches normal.

Dr. Leverton To Teach In Manila University

Dr. Ruth M. Leverton, director of human nutrition research at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture, will fly to Manila, P. I., late in July to teach chemistry for nine months at the Philippine Women's university.

Dr. Leverton

Her assignment came through the Conference Board of Associated Research Councils one of several agencies co-operating with the U. S. government's program for post-war rehabilitation of education abroad.

Dr. Leverton plans to return to the University of Nebraska in mid-1950. She completed her undergraduate work at Nebraska and returned as a staff member following receipt of her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago in 1937.

In the intervening years, Dr. Leverton has become nationally known in the field of human nutrition. She is recognized especially for her work in establishing requirements for college-age girls, infants, and expectant mothers.

Her work in Manila vill be twofold. Besides teaching chemistry to home economics students and probably pharmacy students, she will also aid the Philippine Women's university in a governmental program to improve nutritional standards. She will report for duty August 1.

Rites Thursday For Sgt. Hegel

Funeral services for Sgt. Harold N. Hegel, 30, 701 New Hampshire street, who was killed in Florence, Italy, Oct. 16, 1944, will be held Thursday, 2 p. m., at Hodgman-Splain. Dr. Herman Goede will officiate and burial will be in Soldiers circle, Wyuka. Military rites will be conducted at the graveside.

Sgt. Hegel

Pallbearers are John Schwindt, Henry Hahler, Herman Rohrig, Herbert Amend, Alfred Bauer and Reuben Gerlach.

Born Jan. 8, 1914, in Lincoln, Sgt. Hegel had lived in the city all his life. He was a graduate of Lincoln high school and had been employed as a salesman for Grainger Brothers company.

Sgt. Hegel was well-known in city softball circles. He was catcher on four Nebraska champion softball teams and represented the state in national tournafents in 1931, 1934, 1937 and 1940. He entered the army in August, 1943.

He was a member of the Salem Congregational church.

Surviving are his wife, Martha; parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hegel, sr., Lincoln; three sisters, Mrs. Jacob Cook, Mrs. Marie Ebert, both of Lincoln, and Mrs. George Weisgerber, Platteville, Colo., and four brothers, John, jr., Henry, Albert and Edward, all of Lincoln.

Toland Infant Dies

Judith Ann Toland, six-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Toland, 2716 W street, died Tuesday afternoon at a local hospital.

Graveside services will be held Thursday, 11 a. m., in Wyuka. Rev. W. P. Hill will officiate.

Surviving besides her parents are grand parents, Hernard B. Toland, Garden City, Kas., and Ernest M. Diehl, Lincoln.

Lloyd's Condition Good

SANTA MONICA, Calif.—(INS)—The condition of film comedian Harold Lloyd was reported "very good" today at St. John's hospital here where he underwent surgery yesterday for an acute gall bladder ailment.

Howard Murfin Given High Post With N. Y. Firm

The election of Howard J. Murfin, former Lincoln resident, as a vice president of Doremus and company, New York financial firm, was announced today by William H. Long, jr., president.

H. J. Murfin

The election will become effective July 1.

Murfin is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and attended the Columbia university school of journalism. He was formerly a reporter for The Lincoln Star and later a financial writer for the Associated Press in New York.

He has been with the New York office of the bond company since 1927, except for four years wartime service in the U. S. navy.

A native of Weeping Water, Murfin is a brother of Mrs. S. P. Day, 2111 A, and a nephew of the late Thomas S. Allen, former Lincoln attorney. One brother B. Franklin Murfin lives in Denver.

Billy Boy, Polly Reunited When Missing Parrot Found

Thirteen is "Billy Boy's" lucky number.

But "Billy Boy," an 18-year-old Brazilian talking parrot looked as though his luck had run a little thin Tuesday night when he was reunited with his 24-year-old mate Polly—just 13 days to the hour—after he took to the treetops and off into the night in a fit of jealousy.

Polly welcomed "Billy Boy" with open wings, a shower of parrot kisses and repeated assurance of "I love you Billy Boy."

The parrot owned by Mrs. Dick Allertz, 3781 B street was found by Mrs. Earl Mitchell, 2115 North Twenty-eighth.

Mrs. Mitchell found the bird on her front porch when she heard him calling "Hello Polly, Hello Polly." She caught Billy Boy, put him in a cupboard in the cellar and then notified city police.

The Allertzs were called and immediately drove to the Mitchell home with an elated Polly who hopped about her cage chattering all the way.

Billy Boy flew away June 16 when he and Polly had been taken out of their cage in the Allertzs' back yard for an airing. He became angered over "too much attention" shown his mate and flew off into the trees.

The Allertzs spent several hours searching for him and finally notified the police, who joined in the hunt. More than 150 phone calls were received by the Alletrzs during Billy Boy's absence, including one from a woman who thought he was in Beatrice.

Billy Boy, bedraggled and with tail feathers missing, mustered enough strength after arriving home to eat a hearty meal of raspberries, chackers and sunflower seeds, washed down with half a cup of water.

Wednesday he and Polly were cage catching up on conversation hanging on the clothesline in their and clacking beaks—which in the parrot world is just a good old-fashioned kiss.

F. F. Cooley Retires From Post Office

Served 45 Years; Superintendent Of Station B Since '32

Ferris F. Cooley, 2710 Starr street, will sign his last report as superintendent of post office station B Friday, and with the same signature write finis to 45 years, four months and seven days with the Lincoln post office.

Cooley has been superintendent of the station at Seventeenth and Garfield for more than 17 years.

The veteran postman will be honored Thursday afternoon at ceremonies at the main post office building. Short talks will be given by Postmaster O. E. Jerner, Assistant Postmaster L. H. Watson and Superintendent of Mails Charles W. Frost.

Frost will present a gift to him. Cooley also will receive a life membership in the Lincoln chapter of the National Association of Postal Supervisors. Ralph Whyman, assistant superintendent of mails, will make the presentation.

Cooley entered the postal service as a carrier on Feb. 23, 1904. He was transferred to a clerk's position on March 1, 1907, and was appointed foreman of the mailing division April 29, 1911. Promoted to superintendent of station C April 28, 1912, Cooley took over the position he now holds May 11, 1932.

First County Wheat Is Cut

Wheat harvest in Lancaster county got under way when Emil Betten, Martell, combined about 16 acres of wheat.

The 16 acres yielded 23 bushels per acre, with a test weight of 58 pounds and moisture content of 14.3 per cent.

Ted Munn, elevator operator, reported the grain contained many shriveled kernels, but that he had not yet graded it.

M. A. Carlson combined seven acres Monday at his farm south of Waverly. The Noorris Grain company of Waverly reported his wheat average 33 bushels to the acre, with a test weight of 60 pounds and 15 per cent moisture.

Also reported starting combining were Frank Brown and Stanley McGill, both of near Waverly.

James Resumes Post On M.I.T. Faculty

Robert G. James, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. James, 1368 South Thirty-third street, returned to Cambridge, Mass., Monday night after a three-week visit here with his parents and sisters, Mrs. W. J. Sieck and Mrs. Helen Fell.

Robert James

James is a business administration instructor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The recipient of the Austin Fellowship from the Harvard graduate school of arts and sciences in June, he is completing work on a doctor of philosophy degree in the fields of business and economics.

He recently spent three months abroad observing business conditions in western Europe.

Beatrice Gas Line Breaks

. . . Under Bear Creek

BEATRICE, Neb.—(AP)—A big natural gas trunk line burst near here last night with a roar that sounded like a squadron of airplanes.

The 24-inch line of the Northern Natural Gas Company broke beneath the waters of Bear Creek, Sheriff Ned Maxwell said.

Field crews went to work early today to channel the gas from the broken line into an auxiliary one.

The break, three miles south of town occurred this side of a pressure booster station. The gas is piped from Texas.

The terrific and continuing roar which followed the break brought hundreds of persons to the scene despite broadcast pleas that they stay away. The phone company said its lines were jammed with inquiries.

There was no fire after the break which occurred shortly before midnight.

Wherry Criticizes 'A' Setup

Claims Nation "Hasn't Got Its Money's Worth"

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Senate Minority Leader Wherry (R-Neb) charged today that the nation "hasn't got its money's worth" out of atomic energy commission outlays to safeguard A-bomb secrets.

Wherry, a member of the appropriations committee, told newsmen he will insist the AEC line up with other government agencies and take proportional cuts in funds. He said

"AEC must be no exception. We must cut its funds along with those of other agencies."

Mentions Fellowships.

Wherry aimed criticism especially at security and at fellowships for atomic study. He declared:

"We haven't got our money's worth out of what has been spent for security.

"If AEC had a proper system, we would not have had the loss of uranium at Chicago.

"The system for safeguarding atomic secrets has got to be strengthened and still it can cost less money."

The senate minority leader issued his blast at AEC as Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Ia) continued his "incredible mismanagement" investigation of AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal.

Wherry asserted that AEC has 2,000 persons engaged solely in guarding and accounting for secret materials and documents.

Council Asked To Close Down Trailer Camp

Recommendations that the city close Antelope trailer camp came to the city council from several different sources Monday.

A letter from L. A. Sanger, director of the division of sanitation for the city-county health department, said that the camp does not meet city sanitation requirements. Main complaint of Sanger was that camp facilities for disposal of waste water were grossly inadequate.

City Engineer D. L. Erickson urged the council to close the camp on similar grounds. He estimated $15,000 would be required to put the camp on a satisfactory sanitary basis. Primary improvements would be several hundred feet of water and sewage pipe, which would be extended to the individual trailers. Also he said a new utility building with adequate laundry and toilet facilities would be needed.

"Of course," Erickson stated, "the city doesn't have that $15,000 and besides the camp has served its purpose as a temporary service."

The camp was started about 25 years ago by the Lincoln Auto club, Erickson said. The city took it over 15 years ago. After the lease is terminated the city will use the grounds for park and recreation.

The legal department will report back to the council at its meeting with information as to the existing lease and recommend action for termination of the lease.

'49 Spring Pig Crop In State Is Up 11 Pct.

. . . 2,878,000 Estimate

The 1949 spring pig crop in Nebraska is expected to show an increase of 11 per cent over 1948 and 5 per cent over the 1938-47 ten year average, A. E. Anderson, state-federal agriculture statistician, reported today.

The 1949 crop is expected to reach 2,878,000 pigs. Sows farrowed show a 12 per cent increase, up to 475,000 as compared to 424,000 last year.

Litters were slightly smaller in 1949, averaging 6.06 as compared with 6.13 last year. The drop is believed due to heavier losses of early pigs because of blizzard conditions. Nearly half the sows were farrowed in April which is still the peak month.

Reports from farmers in Nebraska indicate they are planning for a fall crop of 175,000 sows farrowed, an increase of 25 per cent over the fall of 1948. If realized, this would be the largest fall pig crop in Nebraska since 1943. Fall sows farrowed have averaged 163,000 for the 1938-47 10-year average, which is about 36 per cent of the average number of sows farrowed in the spring, Anderson said.

A spring pig crop of 44,952,000 or 76 per cent of the U. S. total is estimated for the corn belt states this year. This is a 17 per cent increase over 1948, and almost 11 per cent above the 10-year average.

Rename N.U. Advancement Committee

All members of the University of Nebraska Advancement Committee have been reappointed for another year, according to William L. Day, Lincoln, president of the University's Alumni Association.

The Committee was organized in 1946 by the alumni group to advance the general welfare of the university, and to serve as a medium for disseminating information about the university and giving voice to suggestions and criticisms expressed by Nebraska people.

Committeemen represent 20 districts covering the entire state. Four agricultural advisers were added to the committee in 1947. James H. Anderson, Nebraska attorney general, was chairman during the past year. Committee members are:

Ellsworth Moser, Omaha.
Morton Steinhart, Nebraska City.
J. Stewart Elliott, Beatrice.
Otto Kotouc, sr., Humboldt.
Robert R. Moodie, West Point.
W. B. Sadilek, Schuyler.
John Riddell, York.

Southern Echoes

Although progress frequently seems so painfully slow, we are moving forward in America. Alabama, one of the states of the Deep South, has been in the grip of a wave of hooded terrorism for several weeks. At the ancient state house in Montgomery Tuesday a sovereign state moved ahead majestically to put a stop to his hideous spirit of lawlessness, expressive of intolerance. A senate bill making it a misdemeanor to wear a mask or a similar disguise in public consumed only four minutes of debate, swirled through the Alabama house by a lop-sided vote of 84 to 4. Passage of the legislation brought a denial from the Alabama Klu Klux Klan that the organization has anything to do with recent terrorism in Alabama. That statement can be taken at full value without minimizing in the slightest the importance of the step that Alabama has taken. The facts are there have been floggings and other acts of lawlessness, which cannot be tolerated. Alabama has taken a great step forward.

Scientist And Senator?

We haven't the flimsiest idea how many hours Senator Wherry has put in laboring in the laboratories. The Nebraskan apparently has a pretty good opinion of himself when it comes to science. Returning to the fight against the atomic energy commission Senator Wherry says we haven't got our money's worth out of what has been spent for security. He may know what he is talking about but we doubt it. We would have infinitely greater respect for his latest criticism if he backed up his charges with widely recognized scientific opinion. What do the men who developed atomic energy have to say? What is the position of those that the public accepts for scientific contribution? When Senator Wherry begins to support his continued criticism with statements from the men who actually had something to do in the development of atomic energy, then the public may sit up and take notice. Until he can fortify his own opinion soundly with opinions by scientists, about all that we can conclude is that the Pawnee City statesman is up to his old favorite game of chattering about things of which he knows very little. Actually we have not discovered a scientist of repute who deludes himself and the public into believing that powerful as Uncle Sam is, nothing on earth can prevent the scientists of other countries in ultimately duplicating what we here have achieved. That does not mean that we shall give the secret of atomic energy away but it does establish that our thinking in connection with national security does need to be revised to fit scientific facts.

Nebraska Panorama

Near the Kansas border combines were in the wheat fields. They will move slowly north until every acre of the golden grain is harvested. It is a particularly satisfying period in Nebraska—the harvest—and a year filled with foreboding should not be permitted to rob it of its real beauty

We chanced to visit with a Lincoln man Monday afternoon who the day before had driven a circle that had carried him south to the Kansas border and then home by a different route. He was still under the spell of what he had seen during that drive. "It was beautiful," he said. "They talk of orange rust, of insect damage, of hail and storm loss, and of floods, and there are strips in fields that have been hurt, but in these closing days of June Nebraska is very lovely and the ripening grain and the contrast of the lush green of its hills and valleys are showing at their very best."

The Associated Press Monday initiated a series of three articles dealing with the state of business and industry. The general tone of those articles was neither unduly disturbing nor cheerful. They did provoke one reflection. Are we, the American people, content to spend 12 important months mourning the absence of something that did not exist in 1947, 1946, the immediate years prior to 1946, the '30s, or any other period of American history? We are inclined to think that exciting and satisfying as it would be, we are a sorry bunch to moan the long year though over the prospect that business and industrial volume—and, to that add agricultural prosperity—will not hit the peak of 1946.

Given an even break from now on in 1949 will be one of Nebraska's better years over the stretch of 82 years of statehood. Present-day Nebraskans will enjoy an income during the 12 months equal to the aggregate income of any 10 years in the first 50 years of statehood. Earlier Nebraskans got along enjoying better standards, building a little more solidly and substantially every generation. It took a lot of sweat, a lot of planning, and no little backbone on occasion to turn the trick successfully, but when occasion demanded always there was adequate gumption to get the job done, and done right.

There is a value to careful surveys or comparison. There is also a danger in cultivating mass jitters, and frequently it appears that in our understandable concern we overdo this business of painting both the American and the Nebraska scene either in white or black. We are producing more feed for livestock, and more food for human beings than we normally produce in any year. We have little industries working night and day in Nebraska to fill the demand for their products. That is an entirely different panorama than is presented in the current news columns. In 10 years the clock has been pushed ahead in Nebraska more than in any other previous 25-year period. Much of it has come about through policies, which we subjected to sharpest criticism.

Up To Mr. Truman

A contemporary notes that "the United States senate is in favor of economy—provided President Truman does the cutting and takes the kicks. The senate has failed repeatedly to make specific cuts itself. It has even increased some appropriation bills received from the house. But 55 senators have now signed a petition demanding action on the 'five to ten' resolution—'directing' the president to reduce federal expenses by 5 to 10 per cent. This is not the most courageous way to economize. It is a further sign of a disturbing development in representative government." If the conclusion intends to say that congress is running true to form, then they are correct. Congress loves to talk about economy until it comes to cutting. Most of us enjoy economy until we ourselves are affected, or something which we think is very necessary to us feels the knife. We have insisted all along that if there is to be economy the first place to start in is on the chief item of federal spending—national security. It involves for the current expenditures alone a third of the total federal budget.

SHELTERBELT PLANTINGS

Two widely-separated incidents Monday are worthy of attention largely because one has received interpretation which will not hold water, despite all the claims of its apostles. One of the soil conservation workers told of the vast amount of moisture held back in Nebraska soil as a result of extensive shelterbelt plantings in this state. What he said undoubtedly is true. Of all the New Deal undertakings that produced a heavy crop of hee-haws among Nebraskans, and yet survived to command their utmost respect and admiration were the shelterbelt plantings. This paper hailed them in the Rooseveltian years when the shelterbelt was the butt of newspaper jokes. It hasn't a thing to take back or anything to add to what it said years ago. They proved to be a remarkable success, a great boon to this plains country, a thing to be advocated, expanded upon constantly.

Within a few hours after the shelterbelt report appeared in the news columns the southeast corner of this state was drenched by torrential rains. Streams spilled over their banks. Flood waters coursed down hillsides. At some points four inches of water fell in slightly more than two hours, at Burchard the downpour was estimated at seven inches. Now those are the kind of rains that produce floods in the Missouri basin, or anywhere else. A Tecumseh man was swept downstream by the waters of a boiling creek. People were driven out of their homes, and fields of small grain nearing the harvest were covered. Shelterbelts may hold back some moisture but they do not avert floods precipitated by torrential rains. We doubt that any official spokesman for the shelterbelt would be bold enough to venture that augmented shelterbelt plantings would handle that kind of a Missouri basin downpour that visited sections of southeastern Nebraska Monday night.

Up on Medicine Creek two years ago this month torrential rains contributed to a flood that exacted a death toll of 13. Shelterbelt plantings, magnificent as they are, would have been flimsy security against such a flood. Up on the Arickaree's rocky slopes in 1935, 11 inches of rain in less than 24 hours sent a wall of water down that canyon that contributed to a Republican river flood costing 105 human lives. If any soil conservation advocate in this community tries to tell the people of Nebraska that in the instance of storms of this kind floods can be averted by shelterbelt plantings, we hope he gets what is coming to him. Because if he does insist that that is the case, no matter how honest he may be in his opinion, he is telling the people something that isn't true. We doubt he would say work on the Republican river dams should be suspended, while we do some over-all planning on shelter belt plantings and contour practices. If he did, the people of that valley would laugh at him. They live with those floods.

In any discussion of Missouri basin development we take it that no sensible individual will overlook forestation, contour farming, practical steps to eliminate erosion, and every other device that promises to hold back water and to preserve fertile land.

If we are able to understand the earnest over-all planning of Missouri basin development, based substantially upon shelterbelt planting, contour farming and erosion practices, may we remind its advocates that more than a decade has passed since these shelterbelt plantings went into the ground. We assume that the proposal now is to wait another 10 to 20 years for more shelterbelt plantings until we can determine the waste or flood waters which cannot be taken up by the soil itself. And even then what will we find? We live in a region where in the space of two to four hours the skies may open up and torrential downpours convert our placid rivers into raging torrents. The most important thing about the Missouri basin development is that we should be done with daydreaming in ivory towers and actually get down to the facts of life. Those facts of life are well-established and are pretty eloquent. Hold back every drop of water by shelterbelts, and soil practices, and then recognize that the thing that has always bedeviled us with devastating floods are torrential storms which recognize no terracing, no contouring, and no shelterbelts.

OFF THE RECORD

By ED REED

"You'd be surprised how clean he gets it when I make him beat it on his day off."

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—President Truman discussed plans for fortifying the nation's economy against depression in a recent off-the-record talk with six democratic senators and congressmen.

Only a meager announcement leaked out to the press, but here are the highlights of what happened. A program of "economic expansion" was proposed that may affect the future of every American.

President Truman greeted the congressional group by saying: "I think I am way ahead of you on this."

Then he pulled several charts out of his top, right-hand drawer showing the latest national statistics on prices, wages, profits and production up to the end of May.

He admitted that the first symptoms of depression are beginning to show and agreed that the best plan is to attack any "mild break"

ACCORDING to Pearson, Congressman Helen Douglas of California (above) was a member of the group of six democratic legislators who called upon President Truman to present a program of "economic expansion" to fortify the nation against depression.

in the economy to stop it from spreading. He stressed, however, that he is not worried about depression—as long as each problem is met before it grows into a crisis.

The legislators who called on the president were Senators James Murray of Montana, Elbert Thomas of Utah, John Sparkman of Alabama, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Congressman Andy Biemiller of Wisconsin and Congressman Helen Gahagan Douglas of California—all democrats.

At the top of the five-point "economic expansion" program they urged on Truman was promotion of private investment and production by offering FHA-type loans to build plants. Private enterprise, they agreed, is the key to a healthy economy. The legislators also recommended:

1. A national advisory board, combining the business, labor, agriculture and consumer committees that now exist separately;

2. Measures to deal directly with serious unemployment wherever and whenever it develops;

3. Long-range planning for public works and resource development;

4. Voluntary adjustments in purchasing power.

Truman said he couldn't endorse the program without studying the details, but remarked: "You are my kind of folks."

Their kind of thinking, he added, had always coincided with his own. It had been his belief and policy to ease off inflation controls gradually and give the economy a chance to adjust itself. But the G.O.P.-controlled 80th congress scrapped all controls at once, let prices and profits soar unchecked; then, as a last straw, passed a "rich man's" tax bill.

"That was no time for a rich-man's tax bill—when profits were at their highest," Truman shook his head.

The inevitable result was "economic dislocation," the president declared. From such dizzy heights, it would only be natural for prices, profits, wages and production to come crashing down. Therefore, he said, the government must throw roadblocks in the way to prevent stampeding the economy into depression. If the public doesn't get panicky, Truman added, there is no danger of depression.

South Carolina's wily Senator Olin Johnston reversed the tables on President Truman the other day and applied some sly counter-pressure to get postmasters appointed in his state.

It is no secret that the president has been holding up appointments to punish Southern senators and congressmen who have opposed his program. But what the White House didn't take into account is that Johnston happens to be chairman of the senate post office committee which must pass on all postmaster appointments.

So the South Carolinian sidled up to Senator Howard McGrath, democratic national chairman, and later to Senate Secretary Les Biffle, the president's close friend. Drawling sweetly, Johnston let it be known that he was disturbed over not getting postmasters for South Carolina, and hinted that maybe he would just block all appointments until those for his own state came through.

Johnston allowed time for his remarks to pass on to the White House, then called for an appointment. When he was ushered into the president's office, he talked about other matters. Then he mentioned casually: "I notice a lot of postmasters have been appointed lately, but my state hasn't gotten any. This is creating a little talk."

Wouldn't the president, please, he asked, look into the matter?

Scratching a note on his pad, Truman replied: "Yes, we'll attend to that right away."

A group of Iowa editors held a private confab between meetings of the Des Moines democratic farm meeting. They agreed Senator Hickenlooper is making a bad impression among the home folks, because of his reckless attacks upon Atomic Energy Chief David Lilienthal . . . General Eisenhower's strange opposition to federal aid to education is attributed to the influence of Ike's good friend, Tom Watson of International Business Machines. Ike's opposition has also convinced a lot of educators that the general was right when he once indicated that he knows a lot more about war than the peacetime needs of the nation . . . Secretary of State Acheson and Undersecretary Webb are shopping around for summer cottages not far from the spot where the Wright brothers flew their first airplane at Kitty Hawk, N. C. . . . Veterans of Foreign Wars chiefs are going to be plenty miffed at President Truman if he doesn't attend their annual convention in Miami in late August. Truman turned down an invitation to last year's VFW meeting on the ground he might be criticized for making a political talk to the vets during the campaign, but despite this he attended the American Legion convention.

One important point that didn't leak out of Secretary Acheson's hush-hush report to the senate foreign relations committee was regarding his smooth relations between the western powers.

Acheson reported that the British and French were more reasonable over the question of German

FROM THE PEOPLE.
Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: So much is said and so little is done on how the government works. Americans should be proud of their heritage and should be ready and prepared for any emergency. We hear so much of power. There are only two powers, a people's power or political power. Which would you prefer? Give me country's power because political power can be so much more dangerous. Too much power to anyone only leads to destruction. America's power came from those people who lived for freedom and liberty. Let's keep it that way.

SUSPENDING CONTROLS.
Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It seems that the VFW has more power than the federal government, if it can hold rent control until November of 1950. The federal law expires July 1, and it specified that the legislature could pass the decontrol law over the governor's veto in the meantime. Furthermore the governor does not believe in rent control. It is like putting water on a fire that has gone out and the ashes will be gone by November 1. Last year at this time there were no apartments and few sleeping rooms. Now look at your paper.

TOO MUCH FUSS.
Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It seems to me they are making too much of a fuss over the auditorium site. That was settled years ago when they first planned on having one and I say it is the ideal place for everyone concerned. Jack Brown has a funny idea of good transportation service if he thinks what we have now is good service. It is all right for him and other people who have their new cars to go places, but what of the other several thousand who have to depend on buses. It might be all right for summer but what about the winter when all the buses are tied up with drifts almost as high as the bus? I know because I was one of those unlucky souls who was stranded several years ago on New Year's eve when we couldn't get home until the next day because transportation just was not working that night. We had a good auditorium years ago and I say we can have it again, so let's settle the thing once and for all and build it on Fifteenth street where it was supposed to be in the first place.

FREEDOM'S CORNERSTONE.
Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: That was a brilliant editorial from your gifted pen, re: American justice, courts and judicial system. Permit me to say that I have had the privilege of contacting lawyers and judges from coast to coast and have recently read "Great Men of the Law," an exposition of the law from Hammurabi to Homes, a period of almost 7,000 years. You hit the bullseye when you mentioned Mr. Justice Reed—whom you aptly and accurately described as a great lawyer—and Mr. Justice Frankfurter and the unprecedented and unparalleled occasion of two members of the Supreme Court of the United States testifying to the moral character of an alleged communist. That typifies, as you admirably observed, the spirit of English and American jurisprudence. I really wonder how many appreciated that "every dog has his day in court." The cornerstone of our religion, our American way of life, or our code of ethics is: "Presume every man innocent unless and until he is proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt." I, of all men, am not a crusader or a revolutionist—and neither are you. I have known you, with pleasure and profit, for thirty years. I happen to be a "tory," an "economic royalist," but I am still an American! You happen to be an independent, a free lance, and I admire you for it; and for that informative, illuminating and inspirational editorial of Sunday. We may be "headed for" British socialism, Russian denial of God, anarchy and chaos. I do not think so. But if so, you are helping to open our eyes. And so, too, in regard to your editorial of a week ago re fear, jitters and selling the U.S.A. short. Shame on us all! Has faith gone? Has hope disappeared? Are we puerile, childish? Cannot we take a hitch in our belts and look inward, forward, upward, onward? Has the U.S.A. and the world gone to hell in a handbasket? I refuse to believe it. Christ said: "Have faith." Where is our faith? Napoleon was blunt, brutal, cold and cruel. But when asked if there was a God, he pointed to the firmament of the heavens and stars and said: "That's the answer."

WASHINGTON CALLING
by
MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—A great deal of attention has been given, and properly, to the case of James V. Hunt who was first revealed by the New York Herald Tribune as one of the tribe of Washington "5 per centers."

Marquis Childs

In this branch of Washington's influence industry you sign a contract with a "consultant" who agrees, in return for 5 per cent of the gross, to use his important "connections" to help get a government order for your business.

The 5 per cent racket should be rooted out. It is a disgrace to government and an intolerable levy on business and the taxpayer.

Unhappily, there have been recent examples of influence at high levels. If the 5 per centers, who may prove to be merely the small fry of the influence industry, are to be investigated, then certainly these examples deserve immediate and searching consideration.

A congressional investigation should inquire into the service performed by William M. Boyle, Jr., now executive director of the democratic national committee, for Preston T. Tucker who has been indicted in Chicago for fraud in connection with the promotion of his rear-drive automobile. Boyle was one of Tucker's Washington attorneys.

According to a recent Collier's article, Boyle in an opinion written for Tucker held that Tucker's contract with the War Assets administration for the huge B-29 engine plant in Chicago was a valid lease the government could not break. Without that lease on a plant, which with its machinery cost more than $150,000,000, Tucker could never have pushed his dizzy promotion, which cost investors and prospective dealers $26,000,000. Boyle, a former Kansas City policeman and a long-time associate of President Truman, was then in private law practice.

I have learned that Boyle was given 20,000 shares of Tucker stock as his fee for this service. This was Class B stock with a nominal value of 10 cents a share. A million shares of the Class B stock were outstanding. Of that total Tucker controlled 900,000 through a voting trust.

Only Class A stock was offered to the public at $5 a share. There were 3,490,000 shares of Class A stock sold to the public. Both Class A and Class B shares had one vote each and thus by his control of a large block of Class B Tucker could exercise unchallenged authority over the company.

Boyle says that he spent only 10 days to two weeks on the Tucker matter. Others say that the spectacular promoter was in and out of Boyle's office over a considerably longer period of time.

If Boyle disposed of his stock at $2,000, which would be its face value at 10 cents a share, then he was badly underpaid. For every indication is that the service he performed was vital to Tucker's fantastic operation.

Why was Boyle paid in stock of the company? What happened to that stock? How important were Boyle's services? Only a congressional commmittee can get all the answers.

There is another and perhaps even more important aspect of the Tucker deal that should be explored. That is why Tucker, in spite of his dubious background and unsubstantiated claims, should have got the biggest postwar plum out of the War Assets administration. At the very time Tucker was given WAA a check for $150,000, when he had only $3,000 in his bank account, he was accused before the United States tax court of filing fraudulent tax returns for 1942, '43 and '44.

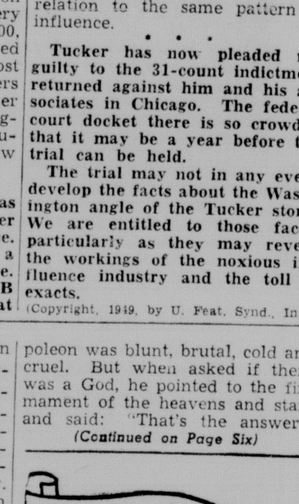

Involved here is a controversy over prefabricated housing in the course of which Wilson Wyatt, then the housing expediter, was elbowed to one side. In a following column I want to go into that controversy because of its possible relation to the same pattern of influence.

Tucker has now pleaded not guilty to the 31-count indictment returned against him and his associates in Chicago. The federal court docket there is so crowded that it may be a year before the trial can be held.

The trial may not in any event develop the facts about the Washington angle of the Tucker story. We are entitled to those facts, particularly as they may reveal the workings of the noxious influence industry and the toll it exacts.

Teachers Colleges' Training School Fee Schedule Adopted

. . . For Rural District Pupils

WAYNE, Neb.—Minimum charges for the instruction at Teachers Colleges' training schools of pupils from rural districts which do not maintain their own elementary schools were established at the meeting of the board of education of state normal schools here Monday.

The charge will be $500 for the first five pupils and $80 each for any in excess of five up to a maximum total charge of $1,000 per year.

Complaint was made at legislative committee meetings during the last session that rural schools in the vicinity of some teachers' colleges had been abandoned and the children sent to the training classes without charge.

Change Policy.

The schools are conducted to provide training of student teachers with actual classroom work under the supervision of instructors. No charge has been made in the past.

The board awarded a contract to Eastergarde Construction Co., Fremont, with a low bid of $45,594, to make roof repairs on the administration and physical education-industrial arts buildings at Wayne.

W. Boyd Jones Co., Omaha, was authorized to construct a heating tunnel between the heating plant and gymnasium at Peru. The board inspected the new stadium at Wayne which will be dedicated this fall. A local building committee at Kearney was authorized to check on repairs needed on a boiler damaged in a recent explosion.

The resignation of Miss Kathryn Monger as dean of women at Chadron Teachers was approved.

Faculty Appointees Named

Appointed to the Chadron faculty were Miss Elizabeth Ebner, as kindergarten supervisor; Paul Blied of Denver, who holds a master's' degree from Denver university, as speech and English instructor; Warren Weston of Denver, who holds a master's degree from Colorado university, as journalism and speech instructor.

Miss Ruth Patterson was appointed third and fourth grade supervisor at Peru State. She recently served as Jefferson county school superintendent.

Mrs. Faith S. Brown, who is completing work for a doctorate at Northwestern university this summer, was appointed German and French instructor at Wayne State.

60 SEE 4-H CLUB DEMONSTRATIONS

Sixty 4-H club members attended a demonstration day program at the county agent's office in the post office building.

Purpose of the program was to instruct in methods of building and giving a demonstration, according to Miss Frances Runty, county home agent.

Those giving demonstrations were:

Patty and Leland Sullivan, Denton, "Transplanting Tomato Plants."

Cara Hutchinson, 5727 Baldwin, and Jane Kramer, 5842 Cleveland, "Making a Divided Box for Dresser Drawer."

Carol Olson and Marilyn Lawson, Raymond, "Preparing Breakfast Fruits."

The program was conducted by Dororthea Holstein, assistant 4-H club leader from the state 4-H club office.

Licenses Granted To 17 Dentists

Seventeen dentists successfully passed the state examinations and were granted licenses, Oscar F. Humble, director of the bureau of examining boards, announced.

Among those issued licenses was Theodore Chew Kee Chang, of Hawaiii. Only other out-stater was Ralph Thomas Montoya, of Santa Fe, New Mexico. The exams were given June 7 to 10.

Those passing the exams:

Henry Stanley Anderson, Cozad.
Frank Dean Barta, Ord.
Marilyn Jean Bradshaw, Omaha.
John A. Burnell, Council Bluffs, Ia.
Theodore Chew Kee Chang, Wahiawa, Oahu, T. H.
Edwin Moody Collins, Omaha.
Wellington Floyd Dean, Lincoln.
Dorothy Jean Denzler, Kearney.
Edward Francis Domalakes, Omaha.
Roscoe Vernon Heins, Ruskin.
Arthur Edward Iwersen, Omaha.
Darrell Wayne Lewis, Kearney.
Ralph Thomas Montoya, Santa Fe, N. M.
Bernard Joseph Moran, Presho, S. D.
Richard Charles Reinhardt, Scottsbluff.
Eugene Joseph Miller, Lincoln.
George Edward Weisel, Fairbury.

Burglars Believed Heading For Open Spaces After Haul

Burglars, entering a second hand store at 2000 K, Monday night, took $19.98 in fishing equipment, a $2 baseball glove and $1 in pennies. The store is owned and operated by Joe Aguilar.

Police said entrance to the store was gained after prowlers removed a screen door and ripped screening from a transom above the door.

Aguilar estimated damage to the screen door and the transom to be $5.

Southern Road's Train Derailed

. . . 3 Crewmen Injured

ATLANTA—(AP)—Three passenger coaches and two other cars of the Kansas City-Florida special Southern railroad train derailed near Eastman, Ga., today. Three crewmen were injured.

The chief dispatcher's office here said reports indicated none of the passengers apparently was hurt seriously.

The 10-car train, en route from Kansas City to Jacksonville, derailed at Godwinsville, near Eastman at 3:15 a. m. Eastman is about 60 miles south of Macon in south Georgia.

Southern headquarters said the derailment may have been caused by a broken rail.

economic and political rehabilitation than ever before. Earlier the French had been adamant against building up Germany, but at Paris, both Britain and France seemed more worried about Germany as a commercial competitor than as a military force, Acheson reported.

They are willing to go much farther in rebuilding German production, provided that tight control over military development was guaranteed.

Haymes, Wife Divorced; Both Plan Remarriage

RENO, Nev.—(AP) — Actress Joanne Dru and crooner Dick Haymes went their different ways today. Each was contemplating a new matrimonial venture.

The actress was granted a divorce yesterday on grounds of extreme mental cruelty.

This partly cleared the way for Haymes' marriage to Nora Eddington Flynn, currently establishing Nevada residence to divorce actor Errol Flynn. Miss Dru said her marriage to actor John Ireland is "probably in the cards" although no plans have been made.

Depending on Haymes' gross income, Miss Dru is to receive alimony of from $6,000 to $50,000 a year. If she remarries, she gets nothing.

The couple married in New York Sep. 21, 1941. Custody and support of three children were arranged in a private settlement.

Three New Polio Cases Reported

Only three new cases of polio were reported in the state for the week ending June 25, Dr. W. S. Petty, state director of health said Tuesday. There was one each in Hall, Douglas and Scotts Bluff counties.

Total so far this year is 28 cases as compared with 33 at this time last year.

"We find that of the 33 cases reported last year, 28 occurred after the middle of March which is considered the seasonal low period of the year," Dr. Petty said. "This year only 15 of the cases reported have occurred since the middle of March."

Cornhusker Loop To Stage Playoffs

Cornhusker baseball league officers met Monday night at York and voted to hold playoffs at the end of the current season. The officials decided that the playoff games would be conducted according to the Frank Shaughnessy style.

Dates for the playoff tilts are August 18, 19, 21, and 22. Teams No. 1 and 3 will tangle on the 18th as will teams 2 and 4.

The two winners then will start a double elimination series August 19.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

Why can't we all do the same? And, as you have so often said, or suggested, all we need is faith. I happen to know how you "came up!" Your many wonderful editorials upon this subject have inspired, and may I say exalted me.

BRUTUS HISTORICUS.

POPULAR EXPRESSION.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Many Lincoln citizens did not approve of the parallel and prohibitive parking restrictions which were imposed upon the city's car drivers by the traffic commission and the police department officials. After more than 4,000 people signed petitions demanding a vote of the people on downtown parking, the city council did not see fit to place the matter upon the November, 1948, ballot. Finally the matter was voted upon at the April election and carried by a majority large enough to leave no doubt in the minds of everyone as to absolute mandate of the voters to do away with parallel parking in the downtown district. After the city council toyed with the proposition for a few weeks, a restraining order was issued in Judge Ankeny's court and a $100 bond supplied to tie up the entire parking proposition until the case could be heard in the courts. A date for trial was set in May, but before the hearing an intervenor was filed and the case again delayed. Recently July 12 was designated for trial of the case. This, even though it would be tried on that date, will cause a delay in the Supreme court hearing because of the vacation of the high tribunal until September. If the scheme to stave off the effects of the votes of the citizens of Lincoln in this manner prevails, then it will avail but little for the voters to express themselves through the ballot box. The fundamental principles of representative and democratic government demand that no power within the government take precedence over that of a vote of the people. If they can get away with this deal to defeat the will of the voters, we will then have reached an all-time high in lowdown practices to wink at the power of the ballot box.

PAUL D. STAATS.

NOTE: It is an unfortunate situation the writer sets forth, although the right to carry the issue to the courts is recognized.

Two Renamed

Gov. Val Peterson announced the reappointment of Harry I. Dodson of Omaha as a member of the Douglas county tax appraisal board for the term ending July 3, 1955.

He also reappointed Farrar Newberry of Omaha as a member of the committee on insurance department personnel. The term ends July 14, 1953.

State Staff Will Have Long Week End

Only minimum skeleton staffs will report to the state house Saturday morning, July 2, Gov. Val Peterson announced. This will permit as many as possible of the employes to have an added day for the Fourth of July holiday.

The governor explained that the employes worked on one legal holiday during the session of the legislature and that he was "trading a half day for the full day" that they missed at that time.

Secretaries Given Pointers By Panel Of Businessmen

CHICAGO—(AP)—A group of men who do the dictating to secretaries said today that next to marriage, the boss-secretary relationship is one of the most delicate human relations problems facing men.

They came up with some pointers for the 1,000 white collar girls here for the National Secretaries' association convention.

Some of them are:

Be compatible, but not too compatible.
When the boss' wife calls, be diplomatic.
Keep the tired businessman's pills straight.
No baby talk to beaux—remember the telephone is for business.
Dress with decorum, not decollette. The boss wants to keep his mind on his work.
Correct the boss' grammar and spelling, but do it tactfully.
Reach the office at least as early as the boss.
Take details off his shoulders.
Skip the flowers, but not the dust.

The suggestions came from a panel of businessmen which includes Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, national commander for the Disabled American Veterans; James W. Alsdorf, president of an appliance manufacturing concern; Ernest L. Byfield, hotel president; Wallace O. Ollman, general manager of Chicago's largest office building; Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety council; Philip Wyman, vice president of a piano company; and Ray Ireland, an airlines vice president.

Because of Egypt's dry climate, more of the objects used by its ancient citizens have been preserved than those of the ancient citizens of Greece and Rome.

Only the Brave

BY PAUL EVAN LEHMAN

Chapter 27

Jeff sat on his bunk in the Town Hall jail. There had been no visitors. Jeff was forced to the conclusion that Frothingham had not delivered his message to Glenn; and, as he thought over his own precarious position, even his courageous nature came close to despair.

If Glenn would only come! He could assure the boy that his secret was safe and have him change the shoes on his horse. Then he could tell about those tracks on the creek bank, could prove by them that another was present and at least raise some doubt as to his own guilt.

When one got right down to the heart of the problem, it was plain to see that Slug Benjamin held the key. Force the truth from Slug and the pendulum of public opinion must swing abruptly the other way. But the search for Slug would be neglected now, abandoned perhaps, because men thought that they had the culprit safe. Their sympathy would be with Slug as a man who had borne the stigma of another's misdeeds.

He heard the grate of a key in the lock. Ed Wade came in, gun in hand, looked sharply at Jeff, then came over and tested the cell door. It rattled, but was securely locked. Ed let his gaze roam over the interior of the cell, then turned away.

Jeff said. "Did Bill get word to Glenn yet?"

"Bill's been right busy. There was a mob outside yellin' for your blood and for a while it looked like they might get it."

"I've got to see Glenn. Ed, get word to him just as quick as you can."

"I'll tell Bill," promised Wade, and went out.

He heard a little ping as a stone came through, and he caught it before it could strike the floor. Tied about it was a string.

He drew in the string, turning his head and cocking his ears toward the door. He saw that something tied to it had caught against the bars. It was the blade of a hacksaw!

Jeff kept hauling in the string, winding it about his hand as he did so. The other end was tied through the honda of a lariat. This too he drew into the cell, coiling it swiftly. Climbing up on the bunk, he went to work. There was no time to work cautiously; he had to get out of there before the mob returned. He sawed through four of the bars close to the lower sill, then almost through the four near the top of the window. Strong, steady pulls on the nearly severed bars broke them off with but little noise. The rope was a forty-foot one; he slid the ends one on each side of a sound bar and paid out the slack until it was all gone. Rolling the string into a wad, he put it into a pocket with the stone. The blade he stuck beneath his shirt. He slid to the ground, landing in the dark alley. He pulled on one end of the lariat and the rope came free of the bar and fell at his feet.

A vague shadow stood near him. The shadow spoke in a low voice.

"Come along and make it quiet!"

Jeff sucked in his breath sharply. Chuck Gale!

He followed the other across the alley and into the stable. Clear to the far end they walked. Another shadow glided from the last stall.

"Jeff!"

The second shadow hurled itself at him and he automatically opened his arms to receive it.

"Connie! What in the world are you doing here?"

"Chuck's horse is in that stall. There's a rifle and blanket roll on the saddle. Go, Jeff. Don't wait."

Connie and Chuck had gone to the front of the stable and were talking in low tones. He couldn't hear what they said. He waited. Connie had told him to go, but he wanted to talk to her again.

Chuck was standing just inside the front entrance, his hawklike gaze on the blackness outside, when she joined him.

"He gone?" Chuck asked without turning.

"I told him not to wait."

"Still aim to keep yore bargain?"

"I gave my word."

The tears came, but she would not let him know she was crying.

"You love him?"

She knew whom he meant.

"Yes."

"And still you'd marry me?"

"Yes."

He chuckled—a low, rasping chuckle deep in his throat. Then he spoke, and his voice was dry and hard.

"Well, you won't. I'm releasin' you from yore promise."

She couldn't believe it. "Chuck!"

"Uh-huh. You know I told you the other day that when I want somethin' I always get it. I wanted you. Well, I got you. You promised to marry me and you would 'a'. You were mine for two hours. Reckon I've kept my record for gettin what I want."

"You release me? You won't—! Oh, Chuck!"

Her voice was low and thrilling. Impulsively she stepped forward, drew down his head and kissed him on the lips.

Chuck sprang back as though she had struck him.

"Huh!" he exclaimed. And then again, "Huh!"

He put his fingers to his lips, caressed them lightly. Then, as though he must find relief for his emotions in violent action, he gripped her by both shoulders and shook her roughly.

"Now get him outa here! Go on, dang it! Get him out!"

He released her abruptly, spun on his heel and walked out into the night.

Law Keeps Youth, 17, From Marrying 22-Year-Old Fiance

A young couple, seeking a marriage license in County Judge Harry A. Spencer's office Monday, found Nebraska law lined up squarely against them.

The youthful would-be bridegroom, giving his age as 17, and his 22-year-old fiance learned that 18 is the minimum age under which a marriage license could be granted him though he had his parents' consent.

But all is not as hopeless as it would seem to be. Kansas—where the minimum marriage is lower—is only 60 miles to the south.

Carl Duff Named To Rotary Club Board

Carl M. Duff, member of the engineering staff at the University of Nebraska, was chosen by the Rotary club board of directors to serve the unexpired term of Chancellor John L. Knight. Chancellor Knight left Lincoln Tuesday to assume the presidency of Baldwin-Wallace college in Ohio.

The announcement of Duff's appointment was made at the weekly luncheon. He was also honored for 100 per cent attendance at luncheons for 14 years.

John Ainlay presented a hand-painted foulard to the Lincoln club from the Rotary club at Beaujolais, France. The foulard was received by the state of Nebraska in the "Friendship Train."

WILLIAM STOEGER.

CAIRO—William Stoeger, 89, resident of Cairo for the past 70 years, died in a Grand Island hospital. Born in Indiana, he came to Cairo by covered wagon in 1879. Surviving are his wife and one brother, Henry, Cairo.

Final All-State Concert To Feature Song Premiere

Two hundred sixty-one high school students from all over Nebraska will combine their talents in the final free All State concert at 7:30 p. m., Thursday at the coliseum.

Climaxing the University of Nebraska's ninth annual fine arts course for 'teen age students, the concert will feature a premiere performance of a new song by Geoffrey O'Hara, composer of "Give a Man a Horse He can Ride," and dozens of others.

O'Hara's new number, "Sons and Daughters of a Land Reborn," will be presented by the 161-voice chorus and the All State symphony of 60 pieces, both conducted by Dr. Arthur E. Westbrook, director of the school of fine arts and originator of Nebraska's All State course.

The new song by O'Hara was written in commemoration of the establishment of Israel as a free state. It has been presented publicly on only one other occasion and that was earlier this month in Tel-Aviv. O'Hara, a Lincoln visitor several weeks ago, showed deep interest in Nebraska's All State and gave permission for the U. S. premiere of the song to the Nebraska high school students.

All phases of the fine arts course—band, orchestra, chorus, speech and art—will have a part in the final program. Other highlights of the concert will be a band number, "Annie Laurie a La Moderne," featuring a trumpet trio, William Ralston, Geneva; Margaret Ritchie, Auburn; and James Boetcher, Wymore; and the playing of Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue by the orchestra. Carolyn Baron, Grand Island, will play the piano solo in the rhapsody.

Prior to the concert, All State members will hold their annual banquet at the Student Union at 5 p. m.

Band Gives Concert.

The All State high school band Tuesday night presented a band concert in the union ballroom on the Universnty of Nebraska campus.

Walter Olsen, director of music from Fremont, conducted the 110 musicians through the score flawlessly. The popular trumpet trio, playing "Fantasy for Three," were called back for an encore number, "Annie Laurie a la Moderne." Members of the trio were Gerald Fairchild. William Miller and Richard Ralston.

The rest of the program consisted of "American Legion Forever," "Majesty," Herd Girl's Sunday," "An Awkward Song," "Halling," "Great Century March," "American Folk Rhapsody," Jazz Pizzicato" and "March of the Majorettes."

Debate Held.

A debate held Tuesday afternoon was won by Janice Griminger, Grand Island, and Charles Gomon, Norfolk. Their opponents were Paul Laase, Lincoln, and Betty Lester, Grand Island.

The winning team argued that presidents of the United States are improperly elected, while the losing team maintained that the electoral college should be preserved.

Debate chairman was Robert Schrepel, Omaha. Working on material were Olive Geiger, Beatrice; Joyce Laase, Lincoln; Bradley Lear, Springview, and Elaine Smithberger, Stanton.

Tri-Civic Field Day Wednesday

The Tri-Civic club field day will be held Wednesday afternoon at the the Hillcrest Country club. The event, composed of the Cosmopolitan, Knife and Fork and Optimist clubs, will feature golf and horseshoe playing.

Golf gets under way at 1:30 and 4:30 is the starting time for the horseshoe throwing.

At 7:00 p. m. a dinner will be held at Cotner Terrace at which time prizes to the golf and horseshoe winners will be awarded and also the trophy presented to the winning club.

The Cosmopolitan club has copped the golf trophy for the last three years.

Max L. Wissel, 65, Retired Farmer, Dies

Max L. Wissel, 65, 3318 Madison street, retired farmer, died at his home Tuesday morning.

Mr. Wissel was born in Adams, Neb., and came to Lincoln about a year ago. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church in Adams. All his life had been spent in the state.

He is survived by his wife, Jennie; two brothers, Fred, Hickman, Alfred, Beatrice; one sister, Mrs. Cora Walvord, Whittier, Cal.

Abel Gets Contract For Re-Graveling 32 Miles County Roads

Contract for re-graveling 32 miles of roads in Lancaster county was awarded the Abel Construction company by the county commissioners Tuesday.

Work on the $9,480 contract will begin in the near future, County Engineer L. W. Weaver said. He reported the new gravel would amount to a layer averaging between one-fourth and one-half inch thick depending on the old gravel still remaining on the roads.

The winning bid was the lowest of bids offered by four companies.

In other action, James F. Miller was granted a roadhouse license for his new establishment at 4600 North Fourteenth.

Public Health Nursing Needs More Workers

Critical Situation, Says Dr. Calhoun During Forum Here

Five speakers answered the question, "Does Public Health Nursing Meet a Community Need?" in a panel discussion Tuesday night at a meeting of the Nebraska Organization for Public Health Nursing in the Y.W.C.A.

Dr. O. V. Calhoun, Lincoln physician and surgeon, speaking on "Public Health Nursing and the Physician, said physicians are interested in the nurses' work because the nurses are intersted in the community.

"We are dependent upon those nurses for certain treatments of diseases," Dr. Calhoun said. He listed among those diseases the dreaded polio. "We are dependent upon public health nurses for the exercises they give in polio cases."

Dr. Calhoun said the decrease in the number of active public health nurses in the state presents a "critical situation."

Aid Prevention.

Miss Alice Rastede, Omaha, who spoke on Public Health Nursing and the Industrial Worker," pointed out that through education given by public nurses, prevention of accidents can play as big a part as care of patients.

"It is more than treating with band-aids," Miss Rastede said. "It is in the prevention of accidents that public nurses play their biggest part."

Along that same line Mrs. E. J. Thompson, speaking on "Public Health Nursing and the Rural Family," said nurses can help teach the rural population the precautions they must take toward health measures.

"Doctors are often too busy to explain to mothers certain health measures," Mrs. Thompson said. "Then it is up to the public nurses to show and explain to them steps toward healthier living."

Essential Service.

Josephine Albrecht, director of the Omaha Council of Social Agencies pointed out how essential health nurses are to a community. She said they are often the go-between for doctors and families, and they work with other groups and individuals to provide health services.

Mrs. Harold Grosse showed how the nurses get into the homes and see things which need to be corrected where the teachers are not trained especially to find those indications. She said nurses help teachers and parents notice things which might otherwise go unheeded.

H. G. Gould, director of the University of Nebraska agriculture extension service, who acted as moderator, summed up the discussion saying public nurses help people to help themselves. He emphasized the fact that the big job of the nurses is to educate the public in taking health precaution and care, to make them aware of healthful conditions at all times to prevent as much illness and accidents as possible.

GREYHOUND LEADS IN COURTESY!

Mrs. Garnier Given Sentence Up To 10 Years

RIVERSIDE, Calif. — (AP) — Mrs. Agnes Garnier will learn Thursday whether she may be freed on bond pending her appeal from a manslaughter conviction in the slaying of her wealthy boss, John E. Owen.

Her attorney, Sam Houston Allen, gave notice of appeal yesterday after Superior Judge Russell S. Waite denied motion for a new trial.

The judge ordered the 53-year-old divorcee to the state prison for women at Tehachapi for an indeterminate term up to 10 years.

Mrs. Garnier was charged with murder in the shooting of Owen, 68, friend of Actress Irene Rich and president of the National Apartment House Owners association. This shooting occurred at his lavish Jurupa rancho near here April 12.

The all-woman jury returned a verdict of manslaughter June 17.

Judge Waite set tomorrow for a ruling on Allen's application for appeal bond.

Race Feeling Causes Fight

. . . At Washington Pool

WASHINGTON—(AP) — One white man and a Negro youth were reported injured slightly yesterday in a series of fights around the Anacostia park swimming pool.

More than 20 policemen answered a trouble call from the pool. Fighting apparently began when, with about 100 white patrons and 20 Negroes in the vicinity of the pool, one youth jostled another.

The traditional segregation practice at local municipal pools was dropped recently on orders from the interior department.

The District of Columbia recreation board, which operates the pools, said Monday it will remove its employes from the area unless segregation is restored.

Social Workers' Speaker's Bureau Will Be Continued

The Nebraska chapter of the American Association of Social Workers will continue its speaker's bureau.

This was decided at a Tuesday meeting of the organization at the Y.M.C.A.

The bureau provides speakers on social welfare to various organizations. It was started in 1948.

Miss Dorothy Swisshelm, chairman, gave a report on the American Association of Social Workers convention held June 10-11 in Cleveland.

She explained the code of ethics for social workers which was adopted at the convention.

8 Cases Groceries Stolen From Car

Reid Pentico, 4245 Cleveland, reported to the county sheriff's office Tuesday, that sometime Monday night eight cases of groceries were taken from his car, parked on West O street.

Pentico said intruders broke into the car by smashing the glass in the right window. Value of the missing groceries was not estimated.

Plant Disease Experts Inspect N. U. Research

Top plant pathologists from north central United States had a look Tuesday at the University of Nebraska's facilities for research against plant diseases.

Approximately 75 men, representing agriculture colleges in 13 states, attended the second day session of the annual meeting of the North Central Division of the American Phytopathological society.

The pathologists saw how Nebraskans are battling the spotted wilt in tomatoes by testing the resistance of lines bred here. Insecticide sprays are being used to combat the carriers of the disease.

Tour Alfalfa Nursery.

In the potato plots the pathologists saw the field tests of the behavior of varieties toward Nebraska's most common potato pests—the flea beetle and leafhopper. They saw the small grain plots, where the Nebraska pathologists and agronomists are testing varieties to develop resistance to rust.

Then they saw the alfalfa nursery where a federal program is under way to find more varieties of the legume resistant to bacterial wilt.

A discussion of the Hope-Flannagan project as it relates to research in this region was conducted during the afternoon. A general discussion of mutual problems followed.

Early day Hudson Bay Co. men had to be able to carry a 90 pound pack plus food and sleeping equipment 80 miles in four days.

County Advised To Reject Land Refund Claims

Lancaster county has been advised to reject a claim of the buyer of tax sale certificates for refunds of the amount paid on a half section of land willed to the University of Nebraska by Cora E. Rogers, to be used as an experimental farm.

The opinion was sought by County Attorney Frederick H. Wagener and was prepared by William T. Gleason, assistant attorney general. He held that the claimant should use the provisions for recovery set up by statute.

The opinion held that where the board of regents accepts as trustee title to real estate which it cannot sell and the income is partly for the benefit of private persons, the board does not have beneficial ownership necessary to support an exemption from taxation unless a competent court so holds.

Muny Pool Cleaned Before July 4 Week End

Fourth-of-July swimmers will find the Lincoln municipal pool bright and shining after the annual mid-season cleaning this week.

"Bun" Galloway, manager, said the pool will be closed from Wednesday noon until 1 p. m. Thursday during cleaning operations.

The pool will be completely drained, scrubbed and re-filled during the process.

A steady flow of fresh filtered water moves through the pool constantly, Galloway said. The clean-up is just a routine annual job.

Landowners Ready For Reclamation Work In Lower Platte Basin

Diversion Issue Still Wary Topic, Peterson Informs Bureau Chief

Extent Of Development Declared Dependent Upon Interpretation Of State Laws, Court Decision

Development proposed in the lower Platte river basin by the Bureau of Reclamation should enter the construction state in some areas as early as possible, Governor Val Peterson stated Wednesday in a report to Avery A. Batson, regional bureau director in Denver.

The governor reported to Batson that landowners in the Loup river basin upstream from Fullerton were most nearly ready for construction of proposed units in their area to begin.

But as in the past, the governor reported:

"The water diversion issue is a limiting factor in the extent to which reclamation bureau plans for lower Platte Valley development can be carried out.

"The extent to which the suggested plan can be accomplished depends largely on the interpretation of the state laws and court decisions which prohibit the division of water from one watershed to another," it said.

"Under the strictest interpretations x x x further irrigation developments in the state would be limited to only a small fraction of the total which is physically possible. On the other hand, under a liberal interpretation x x x the entire development suggested in the report would be possible, since the entire area under consideration is within the Platte river basin.

"The popular belief seems to be that the law prohibits movement of water between major valleys such as the Republican, Platte, Loup and Elkhorn," the letter to Batson explained.

4 Year Study.

The governor enclosed comments and recommendatons that came from those State Engineer F. H. Klietsch had prepared for him after holding a series of meetings over the state. Attention was called to the fact that thinking of the people in some areas has not crystallized.

"We welcome the further studies which you will be making," the governor wrote. "We join with you in the desire to develop Nebraska's resources to the maximum."

The state engineer's report pointed out that a four-year study has been made of plans for development of the Platte river and its tributaries east from Kingsley dam on the North Platte and Paxton on the South Platte. It includes the Loup and Elkhorn rivers.

Engineer Klietsch urged that the revised report by the bureau show a system of works and the lands which could be served under five phases of development: (1) existing; (2) without diversion; (3) movement over minor divides; (4) movement from one major basin to another; (5) development without groundwater regulation and without pump irrigators, where now bearing a share of cost of gravity irrigation is practiced.

1,273,000 Acres.

The plan proposes to add more than 1,273,000 acres to the present 418,000 acres irrigated in the state. The present hydro-electric capacity would be increased from the present 133,712 kilowatts to 163,265.

It is estimated that some of the important benefits would include:

Approximately 3,200 new family homes.

Increase of $59,000,000 in crop and livestock production.

Increase land values $30 to $43 over dry-farming prices.

Stabilize water table to insure dependable groundwater for domestic and municipal uses and irrigation.

Engineer Klietsch in his comments to the governor said irrigation history in the west indicates that private capital cannot undertake such widescale development and that the federal government has a long-range interest in the development.

Asks Definition Terms.

Clarification of Nebraska laws on diversion of waters by defining such expressions as watershed basin, unused waters, etc., he held was necessary. It was recommended that in the revised report a proposed schedule of undertakings in chronological order be given.

Development should proceed downstream, in the opinion of Klietsch, with the Loup basin west of Columbus being developed concurrently with the Platte.

Because of the many technical details of the report, he said many engineering and administrative problems would have to be considered around a conference table. Attention was called to the Nebraska Reclamation association recommendation that a citizens' committee be named.

It was pointed out by Klietsch that the studies were based on records obtained over the past 50 years by state agencies and the geological survey. Five of the existing reservors would be utilized and 16 new ones constructed. Capacity would be increased nearly one-third.

Young Dane Visits Nebraska To Learn About Agriculture

A visit to Nebraska and the United States is a dream come true for a young Danish farmer from near Copenhagen.

Jorgen Madsen arrived in Nebraska this week and plans to visit farms and ranches in all parts of the state to "learn everything I can about agriculture."

His trip to this country was through the International Farm Youth Exchange. Duane Sellin of Norfolk is Jorgen's counterpart for Europe. The former is on his way to visit Finland.

Jorgen (means John in English) wants to learn as much as possible about modern farm machinery. No novice at farming, the 25-year-old handsome Dane has been a foreman of a 400-acre farm in Denmark for the past two years.

Labor in Denmark, he said, makes farming expensive. "We've got to have machinery to cut down costs." The average wage for a farm hand, he said, is about $100 a month, although men are easy to get.

Jorgen said he hopes to take back with him a more thorough knowledge of the English language, although he expresses himself well now. He spent several months on a couple of dairy farms in New York state before coming to Nebraska.

The soft-spoken young man is interested in sugar beet farming in Nebraska. He wants to learn about the modern machinery used for that crop here. Most of the beets are raised with hand labor in Denmark, he said, and they're costly to raise. But in a good year, he added, "we can raise 25 tons per acre in Denmark."

Impressed With Cars.

John was impressed with the number of cars on the road and parked around farms and factories in the United States. "Even the hired man has a good car. Cars here are as plentiful as bicycles at home."

He's also impressed by the "friendliness and frankness" of American people. People here, he said, are not as "stiff" as Europeans. In fact, he added, "the people have made just about the biggest impression on me."

Clothing is rationed in Denmark. Jorgen hopes to fill out a bigger wardrobe here. He plans to visit farms in southeastern Nebraska, the western wheat country, the western range and the northeastern farms. Altogether he'll spend three months in the state. Then he plans to visit other states in the west an be home in Denmark in time for Christmas.

P. S. girls, he's single.

Mrs. Clark will be one of the convention speakers and will discuss "The College Woman's Responsibility in National and International Affairs." Miss Black, a delegate from the Alpha Xi Delta chapter at the University of Nebraska, will speak on "Sharing Responsibilities."

Included in the convention program will be discussions on the sorority's philanthropic project which is participation in and financial contributions toward the United States children's bureau's national research to provide adequate community service and opportuity for underprivileged children.

Other members of the group leaving Thursday will be Miss Patricia McCormick of Omaha, president of the active chapter, Mrs. Olen Brake of Beatrice, province vice president, Mrs. Harriet Nelsen and Mrs. Rhea Sanborn, both of Omaha.

MRS. RICHARD MYERS

Barbara Hopkins

Weds Richard Myers

White candles burning in two pedestal candelabra, and arrangements of pastel gladioli and greenery decorated the chapel of St. Paul Methodist church, Sunday afternoon, June 26, for the marriage of Miss Barbara Jean Hopkins, daughter of George B. Hopkins of Wahoo, to Richard A. Myers of Lincoln. Dr. Frank Court read the lines of the service in the presence of one hundred guests.

Mrs. Frank J. Kleager of Wahoo, attended her sister as matron of honor and wore a gown of lavender dotted Swiss designed with a high collared yoke and long full sleeves of white organdy. Matching lace trimmed the brim of her large picture hat, and she carried a bouquet of white daisies. Wearing identical frocks of sea green dotted Swiss and white organdy were the bridesmaids, Miss Thelma Ormesher and Mrs. Roger Johnson, both of Lincoln. Ruffles of eyelet ornamented their wide-brimmed hats and and their bouquets were of white daisies.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, appeared in a gown of white slipper satin and chiffon. A ruffle of lace framed the heartshaped neckline of the satin bodice, and the lace motif was repeated at the wrists of the long sleeves. The gored skirt of chiffon was trimmed by a band of the lace which tapered from a point at the center front to the floor and also edged the long train. A bonnet brim of shirred tulle held her short illusion veil, and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses.

Best man was Wayne Roberts, jr., of Aurora, and the ushers were Earl W. Olson of Lincoln, and Frank J. Kleager of Wahoo.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Persian room of the Hotel Cornhusker. Included among those assisting were Mrs. R. H. Jones and Mrs. Larry McClaughery.

Mr. Myers and his bride will make their home in Lincoln following a short wedding trip. For traveling, Mrs. Myers wore a navy blue suit with pink accessories.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. Mr. Myers served over two years with the navy during the war.

Ladies Day Out

Members of the Y.W.C.A.-sponsored Ladies Day Out will meet for a 10 o'clock morning picnic, Thursday, at Antelope park. Each member who plans to attend is asked to bring a covered dish and her own place setting.

June Has Been A Busy Month

WE HEAR THAT THIS EVENING is "rest period" for the feminine golfers who are entered in the Trans-Mississippi women's golf tournament being played this week on the LCC course—There have been a variety of social events—a swimming show Monday evening—a dinner Tuesday evening — plans for Thursday evening—the same for Friday evening, and a dinner dance Saturday evening. Mrs. E. J. Faulkner, general chairman of all of the social activities—and her committees have been kept busy, and will continue to be busy until the championship finals are played on Sunday. The Saturday evening event—the dinner dance, is in charge of Mrs. Jack von Gillern.

Wedding Solemnized In Ord Church

The marriage of Miss Carolyn Jean Auble, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Glen D. Auble of Ord, to Dale Edwin Dominy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Dominy of Hastings, took place at a 4 o'clock ceremony the afternoon of Sunday, June 12, at the First Methodist church in Ord. The lines of the double ring ceremony were read by Dr. Silas G. Kessler, minister of the Hastings Presbyterian church, before a background of pink and white snapdragons, and tall, lighted candles in seven-branched holders. Miss Ann Goodrich of Hastings, organist, played the wedding music and also accompanied Miss Dorothy Auble of Chicago, who sang "Ungeduld," Schubert, and "Ich Liebe Dich," Beethoven.

Miss Irene Auble was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Mary Dominy of Hastings, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Pat Achen. Frocked identically, the attendants wore pale pink dotted swiss, with matching mitts. Their bouquets were of pink roses and feverfew.

The bridegroom's father served as best man, and the ushers were Jack Cowger, Dick Dwyer, Dale Hueske, all of Hastings, and Elet Wagner of Roseland.

The candles were lighted by Miss Jessie Dymacek of Omaha, and Miss Dora Mae McGrew of Orleans, wearing frocks of pink taffeta and net, with pink taffeta mitts.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of white marquisette. The deeply squared yoke, forming a high, rounded neckline, was bordered with ruffles, giving the pinafore effect, and the sleeves were long and closely fitted at the wrists. The full skirt, worn over hoops, was completed with four tiers of ruffles which extended the length of the long train. A tudor headdress ornamented with orange blossoms, held in place her veil of illusion and lace, and her only ornament was a double strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and feverfew, centered with orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where the refreshment table was centered with a tiered wedding cake encircled with pink roses. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. A.J. Auble, Mrs. K. C. McGrew of Orleans and Mrs. J. W. Severns, all aunts of the bride; Miss Lois Severns and Miss Chelsea McGrew.

For the honeymoon trip to California, Mrs. Dominy wore a blue gabardine suit, with white accessories. In September, Mr. Dominy and his bride will reside in Omaha, where the bridegroom will attend the University of Nebraska college of medicine.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dominy are graduates of Hastings college where the bride is a member of Chi Omega Psi sorority, and Mr. Dominy of Eta Phi Lambda fraternity.

MRS. VERNON PAULSON

Helen Eighmy, Bride Of Vernon Paulson, Sunday

In the presence of the members of the family and a small group of friends, the marriage of Miss Helen Eighmy, daughter of Mrs. Matilda Eighmy of Eddyville, to Vernon H. A. Paulson, son of Mrs. J. S. Adkins, was solemnized Sunday afternoon, June 26, in the chapel of St. Paul Methodist church. Large baskets filled with gladioli in pastel shades placed before a screen of greenery formed the setting for the candlelight ceremony, the lines of which were read by Dr. Frank Court.

Houghton Furr, organist, played the wedding music.

The maid of honor was Miss Ruth Darlington and bridesmaid was Miss Jane Stewart who wore like frocks in pastel lilac and aqua designed in the colonial mode. They completed their costumes with tiaras of white daisies and of net to match their gowns, and carried nosegays of garden flowers.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mervin Eighmy, and wore a period gown of white satin and marquisette. A tiny ruffle of marquisette framed the net yoke in the off-shoulder mode, and long sleeves pointed over the hands completed the shirred bodice of satin. The full, hooped skirt of marquisette, caught up at the hem with satin bows to reveal a ruffled underskirt, tapered into a ruffle-edged train, and a halo of tulle and orange blossoms held her illusion veil. She carried an heirloom handkerchief of Rosepoint lace and an arm bouquet of Esther Reed daisies centered with blush pink gardenias and sweetheart roses.

Dr. Hubert Paulson served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Alvin Eighmy of Camas, Wash., brother of the bride, Jim Comstock of Murray, and Paul Harm of Omaha.

A reception for eighty guests was held at the home of Miss Gertrude Beers and Miss Luvicy Hill following the ceremony. Among those assisting were Mrs. Warren George, Mrs. Alvin Eighmy, Mrs. Hubert Paulson, Mrs. Willis Regier, Mrs. Robert Seidel, Mrs. Wendell Nickerson, Mrs. Ellsworth Steele, Mrs. Warren Harrison and Miss Marian Sadle.

Following a wedding trip to the Black Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Paulson will reside in Omaha, where the bridegroom is a structual engineer for the Omaha Public Power district. The bride wore for traveling a pastel green summer suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink gardenias.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Paulson are graduates of the University of Nebraska where Mrs. Paulson has been a member of the faculty of the commercial department.

Marriage Solemnized

The marriage of Miss Barbara Jean Keim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keim, to Joseph A. Stewart of Greenwood, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Albert Stewart, took place at an 8 o'clock ceremony on Sunday evening, June 19, at the Cedar Hill church, north of Greenwood. Pink and white gladioli in tall, spreading pedestal baskets, and lighted cathedral candles in seven-branched holders, formed the background for the ceremony which was solemnized by the Rev. Walter E. Neth, minister of the Cedar Hill church.

Miss Jerrie Unland, pianist, played the wedding music, and also accompanied Miss Jean Montgomery who sang, "At Dawning," and "Because," preceding the reading of the lines.

Wearing a frock of maize-toned marquisette, inset with lace, Miss Phyllis Keim appeared as her sister's maid of honor and only attendant. Her colonial bouquet was fashioned of lavender daisies and asters and frilled with babybreath. The candles were lighted by Miss Carole DeWitt who wore lavender brocaded taffeta.

Cloyd Boydston of Ashland, served Mr. Stewart as best man, and the ushers were John McReynolds of Ashland; Keith Stewart, Greenwood, and Howard Kissinger, Douglas.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white slipper satin for her wedding. Fashioned with sheer yoke of marquisette, the long-sleeved bodice narrowed to a slender waist above a full skirt which was completed with a short train. Her double-tiered veil was held in place with a tiara of white rosebuds and white satin. She carried a white Bible marked with a corsage of pink roses.

At the reception held in the church parlors following the ceremony, the refreshment table was arranged with a cloth of white lace, and appointed with summer flowers in pastel tones, and tall white tapers. A three-tiered wedding cake centered the table. Assisting at the reception were Miss Dorothy Welsch, Miss Jane Montgomery, Miss Jo Ann Berry, Mrs. George Keim, Mrs. Cecil Ward, Mrs. Dale Ward, Miss Vivien Fink, Mrs. George Sacke, Mrs. Clarence Green, Mrs. Russell Lindskog, Mrs. M. G. Montgomery and Mrs. Keith Stewart.

Pen Inmate Asks 'Kidnap' Charges Against Officers

Ernest W. Howell, 38-year-old inmate at the state penitentiary, Tuesday filed in Federal court an action against the United States attorney asking a court order forcing the attorney general's office to prosecute certain officers of the law for allegedly "kidnaping" him.

Howell has served one year of a ten-year sentence from Hebron, Neb., for breaking jail.

The prisoner charges that Nebraska authorities twice "kidnaped" him and returned him to this state to face criminal charges, once from Nashville, Tenn., and once from Delhart, Tex.

Howell has previously filed several petitions for writ of habeas corpus in both state District court and Federal court here, but all the petitions have been denied.

Federal Judge John W. Delehant Tuesday issued an order allowing Howell's latest suit to be filed without payment of court fees because of his inability to make such payments.

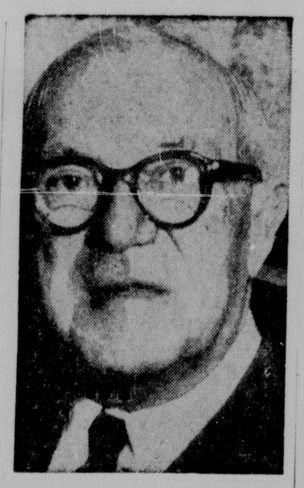

Resignation Of Wagner Starts Talk

Fall Election May Pit Young Roosevelt Against Gov. Dewey

NEW YORK — (INS) — New York buzzed today with speculation that a November senatorial election fight between Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Congressman Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., may emerge from a tangled political situation.

The situation resulted from the resignation yesterday of ailing Sen. Robert F. Wagner. The 72-year-old patriarch of the new deal opened the way to another high office for democratic hopefuls at a time they were having difficulty in selecting a candidate to succeed New York's Mayor William O'Dwyer.

For months political circles have discussed without conclusion the possibility that Gov. Dewey will run for the U. S. senate when his term in the state capital ends.

WAGNER . . .ailing senator retires

If young Roosevelt should make a bid for the nomination, Dewey, it is said, might hesitate to stage a new Roosevelt-Dewey campaign before the electorate to whom the memory of his race against the late president is still fresh.

Platte Water Study Extended Into July

The survey to sample water of the Platte river from North Platte to the Wyoming line has been extended through the month of July to complete the work, Dr. W. S. Petty, state director of health, announced.

The chemists, three samplers and a laboratory were assigned to the work by the U. S. public health service, Dr. Petty said. He explained that the survey will complete the stream pollution study of the entire state, as the Republican river was surveyed last year.

The Platte and its tributaries and the Niobrara are now being finished.

191 Road Engineers On State Payroll, Governor Reports

Gov. Val Peterson reverted to his school teaching days Tuesday and "corrected" the mathematics paper of Bryan Holmes, president of the state Grange, who in a recent statement said there were 400 engineers on the state payroll.

"I am certain Mr. Holmes would not want to make a misstatement of facts," the governor said. "Someone has misinformed him on the number of engineers employed by the state highway department.

"Rather than the 400, such as he stated, there are in the highway department today 191 engineers, and this includes 89 trainees. There are also two engineers in the irrigation division."

Purdue Man Heads Pathology Group

Dr. R. M. Caldwell of Purdue university was elected president of the north central division of the American Phytopathological society here Tuesday afternoon.

The society closed its annual meeting at the University of Nebraska agricultural college with an election of officers for the coming year. The new president succeeds Dr. H. C. Young of Ohio State college at Wooster.

The new vice-president is Prof. L. E. Melchers, head of the botany and plant pathology department at Kansas State college, M. F. Kernkamp of the University of Minnesota, continues as secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Cafe Blast Injures One

Woman Is Blown Through Rafters

CREIGHTON, Neb.—(AP)—One person was hurt in a violent gas tank blast which tore apart a restaurant here last night.

The explosion blasted out both ends of a restaurant operated by Mr. and Mrs. Al Roduenz. Mrs. Roduenz, the only person in the building at the time, was blown through the rafters.

The etxent of her injuries was not immediately determined, although she was cut and bruised.

Cracked Theater Wall.

The tank, freshly filled earlier in the day, contained gas used as fuel. The tank was buried next to the restaurant.

The blast also cracked the wall of the Lyric theater located next door to the restaurant. A number of persons were still in the movie, but no one was injured.

No fire followed the blast which took place shortly before midnight.

Contracts For Road Projects Are Awarded

. . . Total $282,020

Three contracts for a total of $282,020 in new federal aid highways were awarded by the state highway department.

Roberts Construction Co., Lincoln, was low on two bids and Condon-Cunningham Co., Omaha, was awarded the other.

Bituminous surfacing after grading and culverts will be constructed on 5.5 miles of secondary highway north and south of Eli in Cherry county. Four miles of the road was approved in 1940 to join with a South Dakota highway. The other mile and a half will connect Eli with a primary highway. Cost is $97,030.

The secondary highway south of Merriman will have .3 mile of of bituminous surfacing and 6.7 miles of grading and culverts. The cost will be $89,064. Roberts has both contracts.

On Route 9 between Pender and Emerson in Thurston county Condon-Cunningham will construct a bridge at a new location to replace one washed out. Cost will be $95,926.

Zoning Change Sought

An application for a change in zoning at 148 South Twenty-seventh street was made with the city clerk Tuesday.

The application, signed by Ray and Nettie M. Anderson, stated they wish to put in a small retail variety store at that address. The place would have to be zoned to local business to comply with the request.

TIE FOR MEDALIST HONORS WITH 75; LINCOLN'S L. MANN IS 5TH WITH 80

By NORRIS ANDERSON.
(Sports Editor, The Star)

THE Lone Star state shot a galaxy of golf stars at the Trans-Mississippi field Monday and the old "Texas against the world" battle cry sprang anew.

Two trim Texans, Betty MacKinnon of Mount Pleasant and Betsy Rawls of Austin, Tuesday tied for medalist honors at the Lincoln Country club.

Mesdames MacKinnon and Rawls, bronzed and confident, romped home with a brace of four-under-par 75s.

Those terrific Texans, plus Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., Defending Champion Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., and Gracie DeMoss of Corvallis, Ore., were the only lasses in a field of 76 able to crack 80.

Miss Lindsay, a heavy Florida winner last winter, finished in 76. Miss Riley had a 78 and Miss DeMoss, the Arizona state champion, closed in 79.

A Lincolnite, Mrs. Lucile Mann was bracketed in fifth place with a steady 80.

Miss MacKinnon, who played on the Louisiana U. men's golf team during the war, threatened the LCC course record for women as she whizzed out in a sizzling 36.

Except for one bad hole—the 17th — the 23-year-old Mount Pleasant beauty might have approached the mark. On the 515-yard 17th, her third shot struck a sand trap and, while using four more shots to hole out, she registered a buzzard seven.

Less Spectacular.

Miss Rawls, University of Texas co-ed, was less spectacular but more consistent with nine of 37 and 38.

The 21-year old Lone Star collegian, a master at the short game, posted two sparkling shots along the first nine. She hit a 25-foot putt for a birdie on 14 and approached within six feet from 80 yards out on the 505-yard No. 8. She then sunk the putt for an eagle 4.

Rawls out .....4 4 4 5 2 4 5 4 5—37
In .....3 5 4 5 3 6 4 5 3—38—75

Steadiness, pure and simple, was the key to Miss Lindsay's 76. A bogey on No. 13 was her only six. She poked in a 12-foot putt for a birdie on 14.

Lindsay out .....3 3 5 4 4 4 5 5 4—37
In .....3 5 4 6 2 5 4 5 5—39—76

Bogey 4s on 10 and 14, both short holes, skidded Miss Riley's score up to 78. She was out in 38 and appeared headed for medalist contendership until her tee shots missed the green on both 10 and 14.

LOSES PLAYOFF.

Mrs. C. J. Botsford, defending Lincoln city champ, lost a play-off to enter the championship flight. Miss Lena Lamme of Austin, Minn., and Mrs. Ralph Marsh of Kansas City, Mo., who also had scored 97s, won out in an extra hole over Mrs. Botsford.

Only other Lincoln linkers in the title flight were Mrs. Mann, Peg Anderson (92), Mrs. Harry Scott (95) and Jane Dobson (96).

Five Omahans—Betty Wranic (86), Francis Galus (86), Mrs. W. O. Larson (90), Mrs. John Byrne (96) and Joan Martig (96)—qualified for the title flight.

Mrs. Mann's card was devoid of 6s. One over par, the veteran campaigner was out in 40 and scooted home in 40.

Match play opened Wednesday morning in the championship flight and will continue through Sunday when the 36-hole finals will be staged.

HOLIDAY SHOOT

The Lincoln Gun club's shoot at the club grounds, North 48th street, will be a two-day affair this year. Firing will start Sunday, July 3 and continue through the 4th.

The two-day carnival is the only A. T. A.-sponsored shoot in this vicinity.

MIDGETS RACE

After a week's postponement, midget auto races will return to the Union airport oval this Friday night. Time trials start at 7:30 with the first event slated for 8:00.

The promoters promise the track will be in tip-top shape ready to allow the tiny cars to go "all out."

The new race track is located one mile north of Havelock on Highway 77.

HONOLULU—Henry Davis, 127½, Honolulu, outpointed Alfred Escobar, 132, Los Angeles, 10.

Aliperto's Blow Tops Bruins, 5-4

. . . A'S HALF GAME FROM 2ND

BY NORRIS ANDERSON

BY THE GRACE of Joe Aliperto's blooping single over first base, the Lincoln Athletics today stood a scant half game out of second place in the Western league.

Joe's blow, scoring Eddie Boehm in the ninth, swept the A's to a 5-4 victory over second-place Des Moines before 3,302 Sherman field partisans Tuesday night.

It brought sudden death to a Des Moines team that had rallied from the depths of an early Lincoln lead. And, all important, it moved the A's solidly up the league ladder.

Boehm had advanced to third on a scratch hit and a hot single by Lou Limmer when Aliperto stepped to the plate with one out in the ninth.

Joe carefully sorted through five of Leo Foulk's pitches and took picks on an outside curve.

At first appearance, the ball appeared headed for a pop-up to first. But the blooper suddenly took wings and dropped 30 feet behind first base.

In whizzed Mr. Boehm and away went the A's to their 13th victory the last 19 starts.

Replete with rapid action, the game was filled with tight fielding, timely hitting and a breath-taking exchange of home runs by Lou Limmer of Lincoln and Les Peden of Des Moines in the seventh.

The A's launched a 13-hit attack on Foulk, who once was Grand Island's American Legion mound star.

JOE ALIPERTO.

Foulk started the A's on the way in the first when he walked Bob Stewart and Eddie Boehm. Rocco Ippolito's single scored Stewart and Boehm came in on Wally Pearsall's wild throw to third.

After Des Moines countered with a solo run in the second, the A's scored again in the third on Limmer's leftfield single and Aliperto's lusty double to the leftfield wall.

Successive doubles by Schramka and Richards, an error by Aliperto and Brinkopf's single brought the Bruins two runs in the fifth and tied the score, 3-3.

Les Peden then picked up the burden for the invaders with an over-the-board leftfield home run in the seventh, moving the Bruins ahead, 4-3.

Dramatically, Lou Limmer equaled the feat in the A's portion of the seventh. His Paul Bunyan equalizer, a towering blow over the hight-field wall, tied up the issue.

Al Bower relieved Bob Palash, victim of a sore arm, in the first, and scattered 10 hits.

Limmer and Aliperto dazzled both afield and at bat. Each contributed brilliant catches and together accounted for seven of Lincoln's 13 hits.

Des Moines' Tom Fear (6-5) will oppose Lew Fauth (8-5) in the second game of the three-stop series tonight. A Lincoln victory would mean second place in the league.

Yesterday's Stars

JOE DIMAGGIO, Yankees—Made an explosive 1949 debut with a single and a two-run homer in his first two times at bat to lead the Yankees to a 5-4 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

HOWIE POLLET, Cardinals—Scattered eight hits in pitching the St. Louis Cardinals to a 5-0 shutout over the Chicago Cubs.

The Firing Line

by Norris Anderson
SPORTS EDITOR, THE STAR

A FAMILIAR sight at the Lincoln Country club these days is Pro Patty Berg instructing Betty McKinnon, the 23-year-old beauty from Mount Pleasant, Tex. . . . Miss McKinnon, one of the early Trans-Miss favorites, lists Miss Berg as the pro who first interested her in golf . . . Since her first competition at 21, Betty's links interests have rapidly expanded . . . She was Arkansas State winner in 1948, Southern runnerup in 1949 and runnerup in the Texas state meet in 1949 . . . Competing in the South Atlantic tourney at Ormond Beach, Fla., this year, she set a course record of 69 . . . Her hobbies are concentrated around photography, with emphasis on golf movies and still shots. . . . And she's as pretty as a picture . . . Polly Riley, the defending champ, works mainly as a legal stenographer in Fort Worth, Tex. . . . On the side, she writes golf news for the Fort Worth Press . . . One of the younger contestants is Miss Edean Anderson, 19-year-old missie from Helena, Mont. . . . An Oregon State co-ed, she has been the Montana state women's champ for the past five years—since she was 14 . . . She has also won the Sacramento, Cal., Open and the Tedesco, Utah, Open . . . A year after she started playing, at 13, she was the Montana state champ . . . That's catching on in a hurry . . . Miss Betsy Rawls, another crowd pleaser, started playing only three years ago when she was 18 . . . In that short span, she has won the Austin city championship in 1948-'49, the Texas state public links title in 1948 and the Texas state championship in 1948 . . . Miss Joan Martig, an Omaha contender, is the kid sister of Howard Martig, the ex-Husker gridder . . . Working in the ninth hole pop stand is Cletus Fischer, the NU halfback whiz . . . Cletus has been signed by the New York Giants . . . Oddly enough, the two trick knees that limited his Husker grid services were injured during prep basketball days . . . Clete's kid brother, Kenny, the quarterback, is working as a carpenter in hometown St. Edward this summer . . . The other St. Edward Husker, Guard Darwin "Dub" Salestrom, is lifeguarding at home.

DON BOTTORFF

DON STROH, University of Nebraska golfer, will coach next year at Palmer, Neb. . . . He'll be an all-sports mentor . . . Don Bottorff, ex-NU gridder and present Midland college coach, is a busy gentleman during the Trans-Miss . . . Don is working this summer as caddy master at LCC.

Bobby Lee Kennedy, the A's utility infielder, plans a coaching career after his baseball days . . . Also a basketball player at San Diego State college, the 24-year-old infielder lists Western league competition as "good."

What this country needs is not a good five-cent cigar . . . It's more colorful athletic heroes . . . Bob Feller's on the downgrade . . . Joe DiMaggio's physically disabled, Lou Boudreau's batting has slipped and Ben Hogan is probably through for good. . . . Time has arrived for more names like Nevers, Nagurski, Newsom, Londos, etc. . . . You know—the color guys.

The newsreel at the Stuart showing a wrestler rassling a bear has been drawing attention . . . Local fans may have forgotten that Prof. Adam Krieger, Lincoln impresario of grapple, once tangled with a live bear in an Omaha ring . . . Woman fan wants to know the first name of this guy Par everyone is trying to beat.

Believe It or Not stuff . . . Archie Powell, former ace speed star from Galesburg, Ill., who will be the official timer for the big car auto races July 4, appeared in the latet Robert Ripley's "Believe It or Not" column . . . Powell went through a board fence some years ago while competing at Langhorne, Pa. . . . 2 by 4 piece of lumber went competely through Powell's stomach . . . He was taken to a hospital with the lumber lodged in his stomach . . . After a delicate operation, Archie was released and lived to tell about it.

DiMag Clouts Homer

Joe Still No. 1 Baseball Figure As Yanks Win

By JOE REICHLER.

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

TWO things became clear Wednesday. Joe DiMaggio, ailing heel and all, still is the most electrifying figure in baseball and the New York Yankees are definitely the team to beat for the American league flag.

Only yesterday such a statement could not have been made in all sincerity. But events in Boston Wednesday night proved even to die-hard Red Sox fans that Joltin' Joe is the No. 1 DiMaggio, and the Yankees will take a lot of beating.

It will be a long time before the 36,228 spectators lured out to Fenway park by the prospect of seeing Joe back in action, will forget DiMag's 1949 debut. They saw Joe cover himself with glory as the Yankees defeated their favorites, 5-4. They know now that the Red Sox face a herculean task to overcome New York's six-game bulge.

SINGLES FIRST TIME.

DiMag, who missed the Yankees' first 65 games because of an inflamed right heel, wasted no time proving that he had lost none of his greatness. Facing 20-year-old Maurice McDermott in the second inning, for his first official time at bat this year, Joe lined a single to left center. Two outs later, he and Johnny Lindell scored ahead of Hank Bauer's home run to give the Yankees a 3-0 lead.

DiMag came up for his second time at bat in the third. There were two outs and one on. He rifled a fast pitch into the left field screen for a home run to put his team in front, 5-0. That was the ball game, as the Red Sox came back to knock out Allie Reynolds in the ninth and come within one run of tying it up. It was Joe who caught Ted Williams' long fly with a runner on third for the final out of the game.

DiMaggio had six chances in the field and gobbled them up neatly. He was forced to make a long run to get under Williams' fly in the seventh, and appeared to be favoring his heel slightly. He drew one of McDermott's three bases on balls and grounded out in his fourth appearance.

Schroeder Wins

WINMBLEDON, Eng. —(INS)—Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Cal., moved into the finals of the All-England tennis championships Wednesday with a brilliant, 3-6, 7-5, 5-7, 6-1, 6-2 victory over Eric Sturgess of South Africa.

Schroeder, the lone American survivor in the men's singles, will meet the winner of the Jarosvlav Drobny-Jack Bromwich match for the title.

Ted got off to a shaky start and made two or three tumbles a la Bob Falkenburg. But he eventually rallied like a real champion and smashed ahead to score a decisive victory over the tiring South African.

MONARCHS TIP BARONS.

OMAHA—(INS)—The Kansas City Monarchs outscored the Birmingham Barons, 5 to 3, Tuesday night to remain 6½ games ahead in the American league (colored).

Omaha fans were thrilled by one of the longest hit home runs ever seen at the new stadium by Bob Thurman, slugging right fielder of the Monarchs. The ball cleared the centerfield fence near the 460-foot mark.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Stocks Given Upward Lift

NEW YORK—(AP)—A slow but persistent advance lifted stock prices fractions to around a point today.

Theadvance followed a short period of early shakiness when a number of key issues were pushed down a bit.

Among the gainers were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Chrysler Studebaker, Sears Roebuck, J. I. Case, United Aircraft, Curtiss-Wright, Magnavox, Schenley, Kennecott Coppefic American Smelting, Westinghouse Electric, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, Owens-Illinois Southern Railway, Nickel Plate, Standard Oil (NJ), Standard Oil of California, and Loek's.

Tending lower were Air Reduction, Consolidated Edison, Northern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio and Warner Bros.

Burglars Take Pop — B. W. Akins, 522 North Fourteenth, reported to the police that his pop stand at Pioneers park was broken into Monday night and 13 cases of pop, valued at $1.40, each, were taken.

MRS. FRED WILLMAN.

GRAND ISLAND—Funeral services for Mrs. Fred Willman, 73, who died in a local hospital Saturday, were held Tuesday afternoon. A native of Germany, she came to this country at the age of 14. Surviving are her husband; four sons, Charles F., Spokane, Wash.; Herman P., Portland, Ore.; Walter H., Grand Island, and Robert W. at home; three daughters, Mrs. Charles Buhlman, Clarks; Lillian, at home, and Mildred, Palo Alto, Calif., and 14 grandchildren.

Wheat Firm; Corn Mixed

CHICAGO—(AP)—Wheat advanced around a cent at times on the board of trade today, spurred on by gains in cash prices in the southwest and reports of need of moisture in the spring wheat belt. The December contract got back above $2.00.

Wheat was practically alone in its display of firmness. Most other commodities did not show much change.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1¼ cents higher, July $1.96⅝@⅞, corn was ⅛c lower to ⅜c higher, July $1.34⅛@¼, oats were unchanged to ¼c lower, July 58¾c, rye was ⅜s to 1¾c higher, July $1.40¼@½, soybeans were ⅜s to 1⅜c higher, July $2.34½@¾, and lard was 8 to 38 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $10.52.
